Raise Bail In Branding Case

Bonds of $3,000 Must Be Posted For Trio; Committed For Trial

Bail of $1,000 each, to be posted in two sureties, has been set for Rupert A. G. Walker, Roland Burritt and Donald Wood, charged with wounding Wilbert Lindstrom by branding him with the initials U.O.N. as part of an initiation ceremony into the United Order of Nails. Bail was formerly $500 each.
The trio was committed for trial this morning and is expected to take trial by jury, in which event the case will probably not come before the courts until the October session. Before the formal commitment this morning by Magistrate Jay, H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Walker, and Burritt, and Norman W. Whittaker, M.P.P., counsel for Wood, reserved defence stating their clients had no statements to make. C. Harold Tait appeared for the prosecution.

Millions In Holiday Events

Dominion Day Celebrated By Citizens From Coast to Coast

Canadian Press
Toronto, July 2.—Canadians flocked to the lakes, rivers and picnic spots yesterday as a summer's sun blazed throughout the country on the annual Dominion Day holiday. Only in one area, the Pacific Coast, was inclement weather reported.
Resorts in all provinces catered to capacity crowds and transportation facilities were taxed. Generally there were no special observances, Canadians spending the holiday in a manner of their own choosing.
Guns boomed from Parliament Hill in Ottawa's Dominion Day salute. A parade and sports programme featured the St. Jean Baptiste Day celebration, postponed from June 24, in the capital.
Thousands of Montreal citizens flocked to the race tracks, the baseball diamonds and the golf courses. Inter-provincial cricket matches also drew their quota. Thousands headed for the Laurentians and other resorts. There was no civic celebration. No accidents were reported.
IN ONTARIO
Fifty thousand yesterday crossed to the island at Toronto, as 39,000 had Sunday. Two trains carried several thousand to horse racing at Hamilton. Thousands of others flocked to the beaches, and went out on Lake Ontario to favored picnic and holiday resorts.

B.C. IN TRAVEL BUREAU SERIES

Province to Be Featured in Eight Dominion-wide Broadcasts

Holiday attractions of British Columbia will be advertised over a Dominion-wide radio network in a series of broadcasts starting this evening.
Eight separate broadcasts on B.C. resorts and vacation opportunities have been prepared by the Provincial Bureau of Information and furnished D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, who is arranging the series in a programme which covers all the provinces.
They will be given each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening at the end of the regular Canadian Press news broadcast starting this evening.
Mr. Dolan has informed the local bureau he believes the series will be very effective in influencing summer travel to this province.

Soviet Leaders Say Japan Stirs Trouble

Manchukuo Border Incidents Said to Be Caused By Militarists to Bring on Grave Complications

Associated Press
Moscow, July 2.—The official press charged to-day incidents along the Soviet frontier in the Far East have been provoked deliberately by Japanese militarists to stir Russian forces to counter measures and thus bring on grave complications.
A note of protest concerning the whole series of alleged violations of Soviet territory by Japanese and Manchukuan troops and gunboats during the last two months was delivered yesterday at Tokyo.
"These incidents may be explained only in the sense that there is a definite plan by Japanese militarists to make complications on the frontier," asserted the Communist Party organ, Izvestia.
"The responsibility for these cunning attacks and invasion of our territory by Japanese troops and military frontier guards—intended to cause serious conflicts between the S.S.R. and Japan—rests exclusively on the Japanese government."
Canadian Press from Havana
Havana, Kwanlung, Leased Territory, July 2.—All citizens of the Soviet Union in Manchukuo and here received formal orders from Moscow this evening to return to their country by August 25 at the latest. It was issued authoritatively to-night.

REFUSED ROLE FOR HOLIDAY

Louise Fazenda, Film Comedienne, Here With Husband on Vacation

Louise Fazenda is in town again.
As usual, she is rapturously enthusiastic about Victoria, and her husband is in complete accord with her.
Mr. and Mrs. Hal Walls dropped into the city on Dominion Day, found the city celebrating, and decided that the place was more attractive than ever.
"It's delightful to be back here. My husband and I have been anticipating this holiday for a long time, and we are going to enjoy it immensely. Do you know, I refused a part in a new picture so that I could take this trip with Hal," said the screen comedienne when interviewed at the Empress Hotel, to-day.
"Living Up to Little" was the picture she turned down.
She had just returned from a shopping tour and was breathless with excitement.
"There are so many lovely things to buy. We couldn't possibly find time to do it all."

Plan to Rebuild McCarter Mill

Rebuilding of the $30,000 McCarter Shingle Mill, destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon is being considered by Peter E. McCarter, manager, and Wm. Kenneth McCarter, president. They are not prepared, however, to definitely state their intentions. It was announced this morning.
The destroyed building was almost fully covered by insurance. It was limited to-day when P. McCarter was approached in regard to reconstruction plans.

CAPT. GADSDEN BEST CITIZEN

Award Made as Feature of Evening Celebrations on Dominion Day

CAPT. BURGESS GADSDEN

Capt. Burges J. Gadsden, for his public services in founding and heading the operation of Sunshine Inn, which has served more than 300,000 free meals during the last three and one-half years of the depression, has been named Victoria's "Best Citizen" for the year.
The announcement of the award was made from the illuminated float in the harbor to the thousands that lined the Causeway and the slopes in front of the Parliament Buildings yesterday evening for the July 1 celebrations.
The large golden "Best Citizen" medal was pinned on Capt. Gadsden's breast by Miss Lillian Smithurst, chief factor of the Victoria Post, of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, who, with the Native Sons, sponsor the annual award.
The announcement, which, with other words of the speakers at the ceremony was carried to the crowd by a group of loud speakers, was greeted with an outburst of applause.

Workers At U.S. Ports Vote

Longshore Ballot on Handling of Ships Loaded By Non-union Men in B.C.

Associated Press
San Francisco, July 2.—Longshoremen in all Pacific Coast ports of the United States to-day cast ballots to decide whether they will work on ships loaded by non-union workers in British Columbia, one of the principal questions which has kept maritime circles fearful of another widespread strike such as tied-up shipping last summer.
The stevedores also voted on whether they will cease work next Friday, July 5, the anniversary of the famous "Bloody Thursday" battle between police and maritime strikers in San Francisco last year, in which two men were killed by police gunfire. National guard troops were called out by Governor Merriam shortly after the riot.
Officials of the International Longshoremen's Association, which is conducting the vote, said results probably would not be made known until to-morrow night.
The vote was ordered in an effort to settle the controversy which arose when the steamship Point Clear docked here with a cargo of lumber from British Columbia a week ago last Saturday.
Picket lines were established on the pier immediately by members of the Marine Engineers' Union and longshoremen refused to pass the lines to unload the vessel. Later the engineers withdrew, but a new picket line was set up by the Sailors' Union of the Pacific.
The Point Clear has not been unloaded yet.
RAY STRIKE
San Francisco, July 2.—Ted Star, president of the Bargemen's Union, announced that about 200 stevedores and bargemen working on San Francisco Bay and Sacramento River vessels had gone on strike at 6:30 a.m. to-day.
The strike, Star said, was not officially called by the union, but the men quit work by "mutual agreement."
Affected areas were San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento and intermediate points.
The walkout began immediately following completion of midnight passenger steamer runs.

WASHOUTS DELAY TRAINS

Heavy Rains in Mountains Make Travelers Late Reaching Vancouver

Vancouver, July 2.—Washouts in the mountains have delayed continental trains due here to-day for periods ranging up to twenty-four hours.
The Canadian National Railway passenger train due here at 9:10 a.m. to-day, is expected to arrive at midnight. Heavy rains of the last two days are reported to have caused a washout at Boulder, fifty-seven miles west of Kamloops, B.C.
A washout caused by swollen Chase Creek, twenty miles east of Kamloops, has tied up traffic on the Canadian Pacific main line and train No. 3, due here at 9 a.m., will probably not be here until to-morrow morning some time.

QUICK RETURN FOR CAMP MEN

Canadian Press
Regina, July 2.—Dispersal of the striking relief camp workers to their homes or camps will be started by to-night, it was reliably learned this afternoon. The work of dispersing will be under direction of the Saskatchewan government, reliable sources said.

NO STRIKERS' MOVE IN MASS

Ottawa Government Offers Transportation, But No Travel En Bloc

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 2.—A second offer to the Regina rioters to return to relief camps or their homes was sent to-day, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, announced in the House of Commons. The men, he said, would be given food, transportation and clothing, but would not be moved en bloc as they counter-suggested last week.
No shots were fired by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the clash last night, said Mr. Guthrie. The crowd of strikers and onlookers, armed with sticks and rocks, attacked the Regina City Police. Shots were fired at the police by strikers and the city police returned the fire, said the minister. The mounted came to the assistance of the city police, but used only batons.
BLAMES GOVERNMENT
Mr. Guthrie spoke when the Regina strike situation was brought to the attention of the House by Angus MacInnis, Labor, Vancouver South, who said the government was to blame for the whole trouble.
"I believe the people of this country," the Vancouver Laborite declared, "can lay this tragedy at the door and on the responsibility of this government."
Shouts of "no" from the Conservative ranks greeted this statement.
"RIGHTFUL CLAIMS
The easiest way to provoke men into riot and unlawful acts is to ignore their rightful claims," Mr. MacInnis said, and he declared his opinion the men had rightful claims.
"Communist claims," shouted a Conservative.
"The way to make Communists," replied Mr. MacInnis, "is to act in the way the government has acted." The government's attitude, he said, was to hang a man if they did not like him.

INQUIRY INTO REGINA RIOT

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 2.—An investigation of the clash between relief strikers and police in Regina will be held, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons to-day. He did not indicate the form of the investigation and said he would not anticipate the finding of the coroner's jury.

Men Willing To Be Demobilized By Provincial Authorities; Premier Gardiner Asks Ottawa Government What It Proposes To Do; Eighty Men In Custody In Regina To-day After Riots Last Night In Which Policeman Killed And 100 Persons Injured; R.C.M.P. Surround Exhibition Grounds, Where Strikers Are Spending The Day

Arthur Evans Among Arrested

By SAM G. ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Regina, July 2.—With one dead, 100 injured and property damage of $25,000 caused in last night's rioting, the turbulent situation caused here by clashes between relief camp strikers and police to-day included:
1. Eighty men, mostly strikers, under arrest on charges of vagrancy, unlawful assembly, rioting, assault and carrying concealed weapons.
2. Royal Canadian Mounted Police, armed with rifles, patrolled the exhibition grounds, where it was estimated between 1,400 and 1,600 of the relief camp strikers were still stationed.
3. Police blamed hurling of missiles by men in the crowd, after five or six leaders had been arrested, as the cause of the clashes.
Col. S. T. Wood, Assistant Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, said police had gone on the Market Square, where the meeting was being held under the auspices of the relief camp strikers yesterday evening.
The object was to arrest the leaders, and it was believed the meeting was the best place for them to be found all together. After five or six of the leaders had been arrested, a pathway was being cleared to take the strike leaders away.
BATONS USED
This was being done, said Col. Wood, and had virtually been achieved when stones were thrown. Police had to use their batons and disperse the meeting.
The police had no intention of dispersing the meeting when they went to arrest the leaders, he said.
INQUEST WILL BE HELD
The man who was killed yesterday evening was Detective Charles Miller, of the Regina City Police, who was beaten about the head early in the rioting at the Market Square. Arrangements for an inquest into his death were being made to-day, but no date had been set.
CHARGES NOT REPORTED
Arthur Evans, commander of the 2,000 strikers on their trek to Ottawa from British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, and George Black, identified as one of the Chief Lieutenants, were among the forty-one arrested. A full list of names of the arrested men and the charges against them individually was not available.

HIS EFFORTS MAY END RELIEF STRIKE

HON. J. G. GARDINER
Premier of Saskatchewan

CHALLENGE TO OTTAWA

Saskatchewan Government Asks By What Right Federals Enforce Code

Canadian Press
Regina, July 2.—Questioning authority of the federal government for its actions in the handling of the trek of relief camp strikers, Hon. J. C. Davis, Saskatchewan Attorney-General, telegraphed Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice at Ottawa, demanding an explanation.
"I demand that I be advised forthwith as to whether you consider the enforcement of the Criminal Code in this province is your responsibility or ours, and I demand that you forthwith instruct the police to take orders from me and from me alone in connection with the enforcement of the provisions of the Code in Saskatchewan," Mr. Davis's telegram said.
"I take this stand because of the provisions of the police agreement and the provisions of sub-section 14, section 92 of the British North America Act, which imposes the responsibility for the administration of justice in the province on the provincial government."
Mr. Davis said that when he inquired of police authorities as to the federal right to instruct the police to the strikers, he was told:

Police Act As Terms Discussed

By SAM G. ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Regina, July 2.—The Saskatchewan Government may disband the striking relief camp workers gathered here.
Telegrams offering to disband the men and saying the men were willing to be disbanded by the Saskatchewan Government were sent to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett at Ottawa by Premier J. G. Gardiner of Saskatchewan, the Saskatchewan Premier disclosed to-day.
Replying to the first offer, Prime Minister Bennett said:
"Your message received indicating your willingness to undertake work of disbanding strike marchers without sending them to Lunenburg. Please indicate just what this means in order that there may be no misunderstanding."
Premier Gardiner wired a detailed reply back to the Prime Minister and a reply is being awaited.
FEDERAL REFUSAL
Premier Gardiner's first telegram said the strikers, stopped here on their trek to Ottawa, had said federal representatives had refused to permit them to go back to their camps or homes under their own organization. They then asked the Saskatchewan government to take responsibility for disbanding them, said the telegram.
"While we were meeting to consider their proposals and any suggestions we might make to you, trouble started downtown between police and strikers without notification to us of police intentions."

FREE SPEECH IN WINNIPEG

Premier Says Relief Strikers May Assemble, If Law Not Broken

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 2.—If 500 Manitoba relief camp strikers now quartered in Winnipeg want three meals a day instead of the usual two granted single unemployed, they must return to the camps. Premier John Bracken told a strikers' deputation to-day.
The policy of feeding jobless men in the city two meals a day at the relief dining hall here had been in effect for the last five years and there would be no change, Mr. Bracken said. The policy of feeding the men three meals a day in relief camps would, of course, be continued.
Before meeting the Premier the deputation, headed by F. C. Mowbray, said they intended asking three meals a day in restaurants.
SUNDAY EVENT
They represented the 500 men who stormed and "captured" the relief dining hall on Princess Street Sunday night demanding a central billfolding place. While their sympathies demonstrated outside the building the men inside waited until a conciliation with civic authorities was effected and they were promised tents at the Exhibition Grounds, in which they are now quartered.
FREE SPEECH
A second delegation from the Relief Camp Workers' Supporting Conference was told by the Premier that as long as demonstrations were not of a provocative nature and the law was abided by, there would be no police interference with free speech and assembly.
IN SERIOUS STATE
Halifax, July 2 (Canadian Press).—The father of R.C.M.P. Constable Francis, injured in last night's rioting in Regina, received word to-day his son's condition was serious.

FUTURES TRADING WILL BE LIMITED

Grain Board Bill With Compromise Clauses Is Laid Before Commons

Ottawa, July 2.—The grain board committee concluded its work to-day and the bill to create a Canadian wheat board with wide powers will be reported back to the House of Commons this afternoon with numerous amendments.
Opposition from Liberal members of the committee to the compulsory features of the bill was said to have been largely dissipated by compromise agreement. It is expected the chief point of the debate when the bill reaches the House will be provisions for ending the life of the proposed board.
Opposition members would insert a clause in the bill to limit the duration of the board's operations.
Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will make a statement in the House this afternoon.
So far as could be learned, trading in futures will be possible only to a limited degree.

Soviet Leaders Say Japan Stirs Trouble

The step was taken immediately after the Soviet ambassador at Tokyo had delivered a strong warning to Japan that the U.S.S.R. would refuse to tolerate continued provocative incidents along the Siberian-Manchukuo border.

Approximately 66,480 Soviet citizens are resident in China, but it is not known exactly how many of these are in Manchukuo which, until it became a "puppet state," was part of the Chinese republic.

She feels pretty good about it.

To-morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis will leave aboard R.M.S. Empress of Canada for Vancouver to pick up their car, which was shipped north from San Francisco by an Italian ship.

He has intended going to Harrison Hot Springs, but is now considering a trip to Lake Louise and then a cruise to Honolulu by the S.S. Empress of Canada, sailing July 13 for Hawaii, and returning home by the S.S. Malolo.

Since their last visit to Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis have had a son. He is Hal Brent Wallis, and is two years old.

SHAKESPEARE ON SCREEN

Hal Wallis is producer for Warner Brothers, and is one of the coming men in the motion picture business.

"Midsummer Night's Dream," produced in picture form by Warner Brothers, is a marvelous production, Mr. Wallis says. New productions to be undertaken by Warner Brothers right away, he said, included "Anthony and Cleopatra," "Captain Blood," by Sabatini, and "Green Pastures."

Notable pictures recently completed by Warner Brothers are "Out from the Lamp of China," "G-Men," showing this week in Victoria, "Black Fury," with Paul Muni, and the musical "Caliente."

"Midsummer Night's Dream" will probably be released simultaneously in New York and London in September, Mr. Wallis said.

Two persons who were particularly interested were on the float with Capt. Gadsden when the presentation was made and the public showed its approval. They were his proud mother and wife.

Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, who presided at the ceremony, recalled that "Best Citizens" medals had been awarded in previous years to Miss Mary Lawson, Capt. Ian St. Clair, Mrs. R. P. Butchart, Mrs. William Grant and the late Fred Landsberg.

FOR UNSELFISH SERVICE

W. H. Kinsman, past grand factor of the Native Sons, made the announcement of this year's award, after explaining how the choice was made in an unbiased manner by a special committee, entirely separate from the Native Sons and Native Daughters organization, from names submitted by the citizens.

"Names of many deserving citizens were submitted in this year's list, but the name of Capt. Gadsden stood out above the rest because of his wholly unselfish service to humanity," said Mr. Kinsman.

In his presentation address, which followed, Mayor Leeming said: "It is a remarkable thing to be chosen the best citizen, as the honor can only be given to one citizen out of more than 60,000 persons each year."

"In December, 1931, Captain Gadsden called upon me seeking the help of the city in establishing the Sun-shine Inn. Early in 1932 that inn was established, and since its inception more than 300,000 meals have been served to under-privileged men, women and children through its instrumentality," the mayor continued.

"Captain Gadsden has been unflinching in the task he set himself to perform, and every citizen owes him a great debt of gratitude for the wonderful service he has rendered. Also those who have been associated with him in his work are deserving of the highest commendation, and I understand there have been as many as 100 workers associated with him at one time and another."

"It is, therefore, very gratifying to me to be privileged to take part in a ceremony arranged to give recognition to this marvelous service."

HELPING FELLOWMEN

After Miss Smithurst planned on the medal, Capt. Gadsden stepped to the microphone and read his message of appreciation:

"Words are totally inadequate to express my thanks for the kindly thoughts and wishes of the citizens who feel that I am worthy to receive so great an honor as you have bestowed upon me to-night."

"Any work that I have done has been with the wish to help my fellowmen in these difficult times, but I have only been able to do so by the help of the businessmen, officials and private citizens of Victoria and the surrounding districts," he asserted.

"I will prize this beautiful memento as long as I live, and I hope that, with the guidance of the Almighty, I may be enabled to do better things in the future."

Capt. Gadsden was born at Schuyler, Nebraska, on October 15, 1884, went to Bellevue College near Omaha, followed this with a business course and then moved with his father and mother in 1904 to Winnipeg, where he and his father went into the hay, feed and jobbing business. In 1907 he decided to go homesteading in the Columbia Valley near Golden, B.C. He came to Victoria in 1910, and established the Northern Garage and Transfer Co. Limited.

When the Great War broke out he enlisted in the 2nd C.M.B. (30th B.C. Horse) as a trooper in "C" Squadron under Major Walter Bapty. Overseas he was commissioned and posted to heavy field Royal Garrison Artillery. With these guns firing 60-pound shells, he served through the battle of the Somme, Ypres, and Passchendaele. He was wounded at Passchendaele.

After the war he established the Island Wood Co. Limited, which he operated until 1925. He is a noted rifle shot, a representative on local teams of the Victoria Rifle and Pistol Association. Among his other activities are those in connection with the City Temple, of which he is vice-president and chairman of the finance committee. He is also a director of the Central Exchange, is on the executive of the Victoria Citizens' Association, a director of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, is prominent in the Canadian Legion, and retains his interest in the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery.

THREE BEFORE REGINA COURT

Men Charged With Being Members of Unlawful Association

Canadian Press

Regina, July 2.—Charges against three relief camp strikers, arrested when strikers attempted to resume their trek to Ottawa by truck last Thursday, were received in Royal Canadian Mounted Police Court to-day, but they are still charged under section 98 of the Criminal Code.

The three men, Jack Cogrove, Ivan Bell and Ernest Edwards, were charged originally with vagrancy and being members of an unlawful association, the Communist Party of Canada.

When arraigned to-day, Cogrove was charged with being a member and being an official of an unlawful association, the Relief Camp Workers' Union. They are two separate charges. Bell and Edwards were charged solely with being members of the union.

Frank Halsbury and J. H. Lennox, arrested at the same time as the strikers, were charged with being members of an unlawful association, the Communist Party of Canada. No charge was made in these charges.

All five were remanded without plea until July 7. Cogrove, Bell and Edwards are in custody, but Halsbury and Lennox are out on bail.

"Words are totally inadequate to express my thanks for the kindly thoughts and wishes of the citizens who feel that I am worthy to receive so great an honor as you have bestowed upon me to-night."

"Any work that I have done has been with the wish to help my fellowmen in these difficult times, but I have only been able to do so by the help of the businessmen, officials and private citizens of Victoria and the surrounding districts," he asserted.

"I will prize this beautiful memento as long as I live, and I hope that, with the guidance of the Almighty, I may be enabled to do better things in the future."

Capt. Gadsden was born at Schuyler, Nebraska, on October 15, 1884, went to Bellevue College near Omaha, followed this with a business course and then moved with his father and mother in 1904 to Winnipeg, where he and his father went into the hay, feed and jobbing business. In 1907 he decided to go homesteading in the Columbia Valley near Golden, B.C. He came to Victoria in 1910, and established the Northern Garage and Transfer Co. Limited.

When the Great War broke out he enlisted in the 2nd C.M.B. (30th B.C. Horse) as a trooper in "C" Squadron under Major Walter Bapty. Overseas he was commissioned and posted to heavy field Royal Garrison Artillery. With these guns firing 60-pound shells, he served through the battle of the Somme, Ypres, and Passchendaele. He was wounded at Passchendaele.

After the war he established the Island Wood Co. Limited, which he operated until 1925. He is a noted rifle shot, a representative on local teams of the Victoria Rifle and Pistol Association. Among his other activities are those in connection with the City Temple, of which he is vice-president and chairman of the finance committee. He is also a director of the Central Exchange, is on the executive of the Victoria Citizens' Association, a director of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, is prominent in the Canadian Legion, and retains his interest in the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery.

striker, Premier Gardiner reviewed events of the week-end.

The Saskatchewan government had proposed to the strikers they go to the new Lumsden Camp, thirty miles north of here, with the Saskatchewan government assuming responsibility for conditions at the camp. Premier Gardiner would then open negotiations with Ottawa.

The strikers rejected this plan, the statement said, and countered with a proposal they establish a camp of their own. The situation remained unsettled.

MEN'S PROPOSALS

Premier Gardiner's statement concluded: "This morning (Monday) Mr. Evans (Arthur Evans, a strike leader) telephoned me at the farm to state he desired to place before me certain new proposals of the men. I returned to the city and the government met a committee of the marchers."

"They indicated they had asked for a joint audience with the federal representatives and the provincial representatives had refused. The committee therefore met the federal representatives and representatives of the police. They stated their proposals were not readily received."

READY TO DISPERSE

"They therefore desired to make the same proposals to the provincial government. They submitted that: "1. The marchers were prepared to disperse from Regina rather than press on to Ottawa. They offered to return to their respective camps and have individuals sent back to their homes."

"2. They desired to disperse under direction of their own organization."

"3. They asked that they be given exemption for prosecution on further charges growing out of their action down to-day. Evans withdrew himself from the exemption."

"4. Falling being given permission to disperse under their own organization, they consented to be dispersed by the provincial government."

Arthur Evans Among Arrested

Majority of the men were being held at the town station of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Others were in custody at the Regina city police station. No time has yet been set for their arraignment.

WHEREABOUTS UNKNOWN

Where many of the strikers were to-day could not be determined. Estimates of 1,400 to 1,600 were correct for the men at the stadium. Then around 800 are unaccounted for. A few were reported to have slipped aboard westbound freight and out of the city last night.

SKULL FRACTURED

Constable Shaw and Constable Wakefield, Conquest, Sask., both members of the R.C.M.P., are among the most seriously injured. Constable Shaw is believed to have a fracture of the skull and other injuries, and Constable Wakefield suffered severe head injuries.

Including seven men identified as strikers, ten persons were wounded by bullets in the street fighting. W. Hammill, chief delegate of the strikers to the Citizens' Emergency Committee, was shot in the stomach. The three other men were shot in the legs and arms.

AUDIENCE WAS 3,000

The clash broke out on Market Square, where a crowd of 3,000 gathered for the meeting. First hint of trouble for many in the crowd was the appearance of a swift moving city and mounted police. Fighting was fast and furious for three hours, and then died out in sporadic outbreaks on the main thoroughfares were kept moving.

TEAR GAS USED

Tear gas bombs were hurled, shots were fired, stones, pieces of cement and missiles of varied nature were hurled during the battles, divided into two main affairs. The first took place when the meeting was broken up; the second when a few hundred men gathered outside the downtown headquarters of the R.C.M.P.

Detective Miller, according to witnesses near the scene of the raid on the meeting, was battered over the head by a group of men and left dying. Complete details surrounding his death are not yet available.

"MOST FAVORABLE OPPORTUNITY"

"The city and the mounted police came to an agreement to allow the strike and took the most favorable opportunity for our purpose to make the arrest," said Col. S. T. Wood, assistant commissioner of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, early to-day.

"We figured it was the logical place to get them, together with the least trouble," he said.

Regina, en fête for the holiday and with stores gay with bunting and flags posted outside the stores on the street, was turned into disorderly scenes within half an hour. Spreading out from the Market Square, in the east end of the city, the fighting was carried into the downtown section.

Hundreds of persons formed a curious promenade along the main business streets until an early hour this morning, many of them returning from beaches and parks late in the evening after the holiday outing.

GLASS IN STREETS

Glass from plateglass windows in stores and cafes lay scattered on the streets.

Steel-helmeted R.C.M.P. and blue-coated city police kept the crowds moving, but experienced no trouble after midnight. Police moved around in groups of three and more. They used clubs and in some cases were closer together. They carried riding crops and batons and were armed with revolvers.

FROM STATION

First warning of the raid on the meeting, called by the strike leaders to explain their negotiations with authorities and ask for funds for food, was a quick rally of police from the vicinity of the police station. The station abuts on the Market Square.

MEETING BROKEN UP

Carrying batons, city police moved into the crowd and the R.C.M.P. followed. A few minutes later additional R.C.M.P. were brought to the scene in trucks and about fifty came on horseback. Taken by surprise, the meeting broke up in disorder.

The meeting, called lat, in the afternoon and announced through loudspeakers, scattered. Shouting men and women, screaming children, went dashing from the gathering, across streets and into alleys. Police followed them to the street and then retired to the square.

Then many of the men attending the meeting started back on the square from the east side. Police went to move them off. When opposition saw shown, tear gas bombs were hurled and men fell down with tears in their eyes. Women and children were disappearing.

SHOTS FIRED

Just when it was believed the crowd had been well scattered, the clash near the city headquarters of the R.C.M.P. broke out. Shots were fired to disperse the throng, variously estimated up to 1,000. Streets became jammed with strikers and citizens alike.

Rocks were hurled at officers. Someone threw a stone through the plateglass window of a store. Soon the air was filled with missiles of all descriptions. Windows were crashing and the crowd began to get beyond control.

SEMI-ANNUAL

SaleDemotion Of
Dean Protested

Associated Press

Seattle, July 2.—Leaders of various elements describing themselves as "liberals" were preparing to-day for a meeting to protest the demotion of Richard G. Tyler as dean of the college of engineering at the University of Washington.

President L. P. Sieg of the university announced that Prof. Edgar Allen Low of the department of electrical engineering had been appointed acting dean of the college, succeeding Tyler, who would continue as executive officer of the department of civil engineering and professor of sanitary engineering.

Dr. Sieg said: "Contrary to reports that Dean Tyler has been dismissed because of his opinions or utterances on economic and social questions, the fact is that the change in Dean Tyler's status is entirely a matter of university administration."

C. R. Luther, executive director of the Washington continental committee on technocracy, said the protest meeting had been called for Wednesday and the speakers would include ministers, teachers and attorneys.

Prof. Tyler was appointed June 8, 1933, coming from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dean Low, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, came to the University of Washington in 1909. He has been professor of electrical engineering.

RETIREES AFTER LONG SERVICE

H. W. Sweeny, C.P.R. Treasurer at Winnipeg, With Company 49 Years

Montreal, June 29.—H. W. Sweeny, after forty-nine years of service with the Canadian Pacific Railway and for twenty-seven years treasurer at Winnipeg, will retire under the company's pension rules to-day.

Mr. Sweeny plans to live in Britain and will take with him the good wishes of a host of friends from coast to coast. His retirement is announced by L. R. Unwin, vice-president and treasurer.

H. G. Byrne, at present local treasurer at Vancouver, has been promoted to the post of local treasurer at Winnipeg, succeeding Mr. Sweeny and in turn is succeeded as local treasurer at Vancouver by A. E. Shave, at present assistant local treasurer, Winnipeg.

Mr. Sweeny's retirement removes from the active ranks a man who has given a lifetime of service to the Canadian Pacific Railway. He joined the company as an office boy in the treasurer's office in this city on June 9, 1886. He served as office boy, clerk, cashier, and as paymaster on line east before being made local treasurer at Winnipeg on September 1, 1908.

Mr. Byrne joined the service in February, 1902, as clerk in the paymaster's office at Vancouver and rose through the ranks to become cashier in the local treasurer's office in Vancouver in October, 1903. He was promoted assistant to the local treasurer, Vancouver, in January, 1909, becoming local treasurer at that point in May, 1921, from which position he goes to Winnipeg. Mr. Shave has also had a long and successful career with the Canadian Pacific Railway. He joined the service as a clerk in the treasury department, Montreal, in August, 1908, and rose to become assistant local treasurer at Winnipeg, from which post he is again promoted to succeed Mr. Byrne at Vancouver.

Appeal Is Dismissed

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 29.—The Supreme Court of Canada yesterday dismissed the appeal of Capt. Ross Mason from a conviction for stealing his ship, the Kromhout, and its cargo after it had been seized by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on the high seas for violation of the rum-running laws, and for obstructing Officer Gordon L. When approaching the shore, Capt. Mason forcibly took possession of the ship and escaped to St. Pierre, Miquelon.

Men Are To Go
Home From Camp

At Lumsden, Sask., Are 31 Who Formerly Were With Strikers in Regina

Canadian Press

Lumsden, Sask., July 2.—Riot-fueled relief camp strikers milled through Regina streets yesterday evening and early to-day while thirty-one of their comrades slumbered in the peace of Lumsden valley, where they had gone to await transportation arranged by the federal government to their homes.

Along with the thirty-one from the ranks of the strikers were 122 others who were at the camp, it was disclosed to-day by camp officials. The camp was established under Department of Labor direction to act as a clearing house when the On-to-Ottawa marchers were halted in Regina.

To-day two of the thirty-one former members of the relief camp strikers' army were ready to go to their homes at Vernon, B.C. Two more had transportation to go to Vancouver and one each had been provided with railway tickets to Calgary and Lethbridge. The others will be sent to their homes as soon as transportation can be arranged.

Names Rejected
By Vote Officials

Negro Followers of "Father Divine" Told to Reregister in New York

New York, July 2.—When election clerks of the central registration bureau on the eighteenth floor of the Municipal Building gathered their wits yesterday and decided that they saw and heard no midsummer madness produced by heat, they said "No."

What they saw came through the door was a band of 200 negroes, led by a man with a large cardboard disc on his lapel, bearing a printed word, "God."

The man with the badge announced he was "God's assistant" and said that his band was composed of followers of "Father Divine," the Harlem prophet, who announced Sunday that he was going into politics.

The followers stepped up and began giving their names for registration to vote.

"Saints of Saints," one announced himself.

"Rebecca - at - the - Well," another said.

"Peaceful Love."

"Holy Lamb."

Chief Clerk Edward J. McGowan ruled then and there that the appellations were not and could not be voting names.

The chief clerk said it would "make this department look ridiculous."

Seattle, July 2 (Associated Press).—Washington's birth rate rose sharply in nearly every city of the state in 1934, marking perhaps, the passing of the depression.

United States Department of Commerce figures show that in all but two cities, Vancouver and Aberdeen, the rate for 1934 increased over 1933.

New Mexico and West Virginia began collections under laws which continued levies which expired.

Council of Action For Peace and Reconstruction Launched in Britain

Canadian Press

London, July 2.—The Council of Action for Peace and Reconstruction embarked yesterday on stormy seas. The two-fold programme of the council, in effect, links a policy of peace with the Lloyd-George programme of work, not doles. Its manifesto stressed the non-partisan character of the movement.

Representatives of Free Churches (who called yesterday's opening conference), members of Parliament of all parties, members of peace societies, brotherhoods and women's organizations throughout the country crowded the body of Westminster central hall. Speakers were as wide apart politically as the Marquis of Lothian, Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, Sir Herbert Samuel and Viscount Cecil of Chelwood.

Reports the council might run 350 candidates in the coming general election started trouble. Four signatories of the manifesto withdrew their names.

The proceedings yesterday had hardly started when a delegate endeavored to propose an amendment Lord Lothian, who presided, ruled him out of order and loudly protesting, the delegate left the hall.

How to get
SAFE MILEAGE
from Tires

ENGINEERS tell us that a set of first-grade tires will last from as low as 11,000 miles to as high as 30,000 miles or more—depending on the care we give them! And they give us these three simple rules for long, safe mileage:

1. Keep your tires inflated to the correct pressure. Tires that continually run soft wear out quickly and are easy prey to nails, tacks and bits of glass along the streets. 2. Avoid bruising the tires against curbs, ruts and holes. 3. Have your tires inspected at least once a month, for safety's sake.

The "blowout", rare as it is becoming, thanks to tire-building progress, is still something we all dread. Remember that it costs you nothing to have your tires inflated and inspected at regular intervals—and this simple care may prevent a serious mishap!

BALANCED

Increases Comfort and Safety
Lessens Wear on Tires

ALONG with the modern trend to stream-lined designs has come scientific balancing of car weight.

And just as streamlining grew out of the public demand for automobiles styled in a modern tempo, so today's redistribution of car weight follows the popular desire for easier riding, greater ease of control, better stability at highway speeds and larger bodies. As a further result, the strain and wear on tires, axles and springs is appreciably decreased for longer life.

General Motors engineers started work on the weight problem years ago. And today's General Motors cars demonstrate in unmistakable fashion the success of their modern, fully-balanced designs.

But it's worth noting that General Motors goes much farther than merely redistributing the weight of the car to best advantage. We build KNEE-ACTION into our cars as well—because engineers and owners both agree that you can't get along without Knee-Action if you want the ultimate in a "floating" ride!

THE CLASH AT REGINA

THE STATEMENT ISSUED BY PREMIER J. G. Gardiner of Saskatchewan throws more light upon the incredible bungling by the Ottawa government of the relief camp strike situation in Regina which culminated in serious rioting yesterday evening.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Gardiner said, he received a telephone message from strike leader Evans offering certain proposals on behalf of the strikers, who appointed a committee which the Premier met. That committee sought a joint audience with the federal representatives and the provincial government, but the former objected to a conference of this nature, and the strikers committee, therefore, met the federal representatives alone, and submitted their proposals. These, however, were not favorably received, and the committee submitted them to the provincial government.

The proposals were: The marchers were prepared to disperse from Regina rather than press on to Ottawa; they offered to return to their respective camps and have individuals sent back to their homes; they desired to disperse under the direction of their own organization; they asked that they be given exemption from prosecution on further charges growing out of their activities to date, leader Evans, however, withdrawing himself from the exemption; failing being given permission to disperse under their own organization, they consented to be dispersed by the provincial government.

It may be assumed that the provincial government was favorable to those proposals, but its hands were tied by the unfavorable reaction of the Ottawa representatives who were acting under instructions from the federal capital. Obviously, if the matter had been allowed to rest between the strikers and the provincial government, in the light of Premier Gardiner's statement the situation would have been cleared satisfactorily. The clash occurred hours later, when an open-air mass meeting, attended by 3,000 people, was charged by steel-helmeted Dominion Mounted Police and the city police, and in the fighting which followed one police detective of Regina was killed, one hundred were wounded by bullets and missiles, including a number of citizens and visitors to the city, while property was damaged to the extent of $25,000. It is estimated that there were 1,600 strikers at the gathering, so there must have been almost as many Regina citizens and visitors in the crowd.

Premier Gardiner's recital of the proposals made by the strikers in the morning puts the immediate responsibility for the outbreak right up to Ottawa. There was nothing in the proposals which should not have been accepted. The strikers offered to disperse, return to their camps or homes either under their own organization or under the direction of the provincial government. The refusal of Ottawa to permit them to disperse in either of these circumstances furnishes a sinister commentary on the whole messy business, especially when it was followed by a charge of steel-helmeted police on an open-air mass meeting. It is a matter which should be ventilated in Parliament at once, for it looks like deliberate provocation of trouble by the federal authorities.

It is worth noting here that Premier Gardiner has protested to Ottawa against the way in which the Dominion has handled the relief camp strike situation since it shifted to Saskatchewan, and which even reached the point of the federal police under the authority of a Dominion order-in-council going around to farmers and warning them against providing assistance to the strikers in facilitating their march eastward. After all, this is Canada, not Germany or Russia or Italy. Canada will tolerate neither Fascism nor Communism.

There was no occasion for the frantic policy of the federal government over this relief camp strike. It is true the strikers include a number of young hot-heads who no doubt have been filled with the nostrums of communism by Evans and his aides, but it is also true that they comprise a lot of good Canadians who have been made desperate by the utter hopelessness of their condition in these camps, of waiting for jobs to "come to them," to use the classic phrase of Mr. Bennett, whose policy in creating this demoralizing atmosphere is leaving a scar upon the citizenship of this country which will not be effaced for a generation—a policy, by the way, which is devised for the benefit of a few special interests. Several years in a relief camp might transform Mr. Bennett himself into a communist in comparison with which Evans and other radicals might be only a slight rash upon the body politic. Among the people who were charged by the police yesterday evening were citizens who in every essential of citizenship were at least as reputable and desirable as the members of the federal government.

These relief camps should have been converted into construction centres and the occupants put to work and paid for their labor on a reasonable basis. Work and wages would have preserved their morale, stimulated their ambition and enabled them to make some solid contribution to Canada's progress. There are numerous projects which can be carried out as the basis of future development which eventually would more than justify their cost. But even if they did not, they would be cheap indeed in comparison with the ruinous effect upon the citizenship of the country of a system which expresses complete bankruptcy of statesmanship, which has had one explosion in Regina, and may have more sequels of the same tragic nature elsewhere.

ZEPPELINS FLY ON

A CABLE FROM AMSTERDAM ANNOUNCES THAT Zeppelins soon may replace steamships as the principal means of communication between Holland and the Dutch East Indies.

The chief steamship line, it seems, has been running at a substantial loss. Dirigibles, the steamship directors contend, could cover the distance between Amsterdam and Java in far less time and could convert this loss into profit.

Plans are said to be under way for buying a fleet of them from the Zeppelin people to be placed in regular service under Dutch control.

All this probably has a strange sound to the people in the neighboring republic, disillusioned by the loss of the Akron and the Macon. But the Dutch are reported to feel that the Germans know enough about the building of giant airships to make them safe and reliable.

GOLD AND POLITICS

LATEST STATISTICS SHOW THAT AT the end of last year, the United States held 39.7 per cent of the world's gold; France 25 per cent; England, 7.3 per cent; the rest of Europe, 21.6 per cent, and the rest of the world, 8.2 per cent.

Very little difference had taken place last year from the year before. The United States had increased its stock of gold by about 4 per cent. The "rest of Europe" had dwindled by only 3 per cent. England had 7.8 per cent in 1933 and 7.3 per cent in 1934.

It will be seen from these figures that the United States and France control the major portion of the world's gold supply. But what good is it doing them? The neighboring republic is trying to beat the world's most formidable economic problem. More than twenty millions of its people are either unemployed or drawing relief in one form or another.

France, with all her gold reserves, wakes up almost every morning to vote on a confidence or non-confidence motion in the Chamber of Deputies. Two governments a week, of course are very little in France's young life.

Back of all this, none the less, is this matter of gold. Stolid old Britain held an election in 1931—with a former Labor Prime Minister, a man who had been anathema to semi and ultra Imperialists—at the helm. It was an election to prevent Britain from going off the gold standard. It was a popular cry. The so-called National Government was endorsed "hands down."

It was not a "National Government." It was merely a Tory government. And did Britain remain on the gold standard? The answer is to be found in the figures quoted above.

Britain, to-day, has in her possession 7.3 per cent of the world's gold supply!

BURGESS' GADSDEN

THE NATIVE SONS AND DAUGHTERS of British Columbia made no mistake when they, through Mayor David Leeming, conferred upon Burgess J. Gadsden, the medal symbolical of good citizenship.

Mr. Gadsden carved a niche for himself in the public esteem when he founded the Sunshine Inn, and managed it for nearly four years. We are told that in that time about 300,000 meals have been served to men, women, and children, free.

The Times congratulates Mr. Gadsden on the distinction which has been conferred upon him and the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia upon the honor they have conferred upon themselves by so bestowing it.

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

BORED

He talked so much of bonds and stocks
I quit the cabin where we sat
For Peter, at his tackle box,
And sat me down with him to chat.

He talked me down with him to chat.
The talk takes on a weary pitch
When your companion's only rich.
And Peter being poor of purse
And having but his time to sell,
Knew words and streams and could rehearse
Strange little tales he loved to tell.

So wise, so quaintly droll was he
I found him happy company.
He knew the birds, he knew the trees,
The season's changes and the pines,
And quietly he talked of these.
The while he straightened out his lines.
And when he wished, I'm sure he knew
Just how to set me laughing, too.

We need so much that others know;
So much that others have to give
That it's too bad that we should grow
Within a selfish rut to live.
There is so much of splendor, which
Surpasses merely being rich.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

LEAVE ALL YOUR TOIL

So many men have crawled so many words
Across white paper there is nothing more
That need be said. As countless as the birds
Their thoughts arise, brave thoughts that sing and soar,
Then put your pen aside, no longer wait
For tides of ecstasy to flood your veins,
No longer weigh and ponder, hesitate
Between two glowing words. . . . Forsake your pains.

Leave all your toil. Come down this narrow path
Which leads past camphor hedges to the sea;
Be done with words of love and fear and wrath,
Forget that any other world can be.
Save this strange realm of moonlight, wind and spray,
These lifting waves that bear the past away.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

TIP FOR POLICEMEN

The Sault Star

Here's a tip for constables. In Evanston, Ill., Motorcycle Policeman Robert Borland rode "lost" Bobby Walshaw, three, around town for an hour on the handlebars of his machine, looking for a house Bobby could recognize as home. When the policeman noticed his passenger waving shyly at a little girl on the sidewalk, he stopped. The girl was Bobby's sister, the house was Bobby's house, and the spot was where Policeman Borland had found Bobby.

Loose Ends

A brief visit to the United States is disturbing to the island sport; for they are truly civilized over there—and it's too fast for us rough islanders—but one aged prophet makes his protest.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

U.S.A.

FOR THE LAST YEAR I have stayed away from the United States and got on very well, without the least hardship. I am bound to say that the United States does not seem to have suffered, either. But over the long week-end, I was in Seattle and I am quite content to come home again. Even after a few days away from it, the portals of Victoria, though they be cluttered with tumble-down warehouses and the ghostly industrial reserve, which should have been a beautiful park, are lovely indeed.

Seattle is a great city, but too busy. The Seattle spirit, which made the place, is a wonderful phenomenon, but in its modern form it is too fast for us rough islanders and, invisible as the boundary line may be out there in the straits, the two civilizations are entirely different. Vancouver is the industrial reserve, which is a long way off, which is a good thing or a regrettable thing, according to your view of civilization.

The United States, I suppose, as the most interesting nation in the world at the moment, it is in the midst of a tremendous experiment, at the crossroads of destiny and all that kind of thing. A year ago, when I was over there, down in the eastern states, the country was still in the first hot excitement of the New Deal, the gilt had not yet been rubbed off the Forgotten Man, and Mr. Roosevelt's smile made everybody glow from head to foot.

Now you wouldn't know that there was any New Deal at all. It is taken as a matter of course, the Forgotten Man seems to be forgotten again by the general public, though the government is doing more for him than ever, and Mr. Roosevelt is just another president. The second American Revolution goes on, but the man on the street hasn't the remotest idea that he is in the middle of it.

SMART GUY

THE PAPERS SHOUT that Mr. Roosevelt's plan to increase the taxes of the rich will demoralize business, punish thrift and generally wreck everything. But the people aren't worrying in the least. Most of them aren't rich. Waley's kidnapping confession, in eight-column headlines, beats Mr. Roosevelt all hollow. The taxi driver allows that the President is a smart guy, though the NRA was a flop and we're better without it. It raised the wages of poor guys up to $14 a week, but the guys getting $25 have been cut to $14. Now, he supposes, the good guys will get more money and the rest will get out.

The trouble with the country is there are too many professors running the government; like the professors up here in the University of Washington, that noble group of buildings on the hill. A lot of them, says the taxi driver, are communists and teaching communism to the students. Well, there's a lot in it, he supposes. He has thought a good deal about it. Also it turns out that he thinks the new negro pugilist is a coming champion. This is more interesting than communism.

NOT ONE

WHATEVER MAY BE SAID for the civilization we are building in America and essentially it is the same all over—it doesn't make beautiful women. It is making uniform women, with a peculiar, doll-like similarity, but they are not beautiful. You'll observe that in New York and in Seattle. In Seattle, in a whole day of riding and tramping about and keeping my eyes open, I only saw one really pretty girl and she was a wax model in a department store window. This is literally true; not one.

I do not mean beautiful in any exalted sense, but not one reasonably pretty woman, such as you see in droves in Victoria. You cannot escape the conclusion that machine civilization is crushing out female beauty and ours survives on the island because we have few machines. Now that the stop-and-go signals are operating you will probably observe a decline in womanhood over here, too. What I can never make out is where Hollywood recruits its pretty ladies from; probably from the farming districts of the middle west.

And yet what prodigies of labor they do to look beautiful! Enough paint on the women's faces to cover all the skyscrapers of the city; enough scarlet nail polish to paint the town red. And how they diet—a glass of orange juice, a cup of coffee and a package of Lucky Strikes for breakfast—to make themselves look like Joan Crawford, and the other gorgeous skeletons of the screen! It is really tragic when you think that our girls are beautiful without even trying. Or do they?

NIBBLERS

THE GUSTATORIAL HABITS of the American people, indeed, are a never-failing source of admiration and wonderment to the stranger. They have controlled the sea, the land and the air. They have subdued nature. They have mastered the mysteries of the universe. But they have never mastered the human stomach. They have become a nation of nibblers. They seem to eat odd things at odd moments all day long. Girls who have breakfasted on coffee and orange juice and Lucky Strikes to keep their weight down, flock to soda fountains to eat sundae with more fat in them than a six-course dinner. The average male doesn't seem able to exist for two hours without a cup of coffee, a chocolate bar or another package of cigarettes.

It is not appetite nor physical need. It is nervous habit. It is the curse of the age of leisure made possible by machinery and gadgets. If they manage out of the present economic upheaval to achieve the planned economy, the distribution of wealth and the emancipation of man, they will have to go a lot further and do a lot more for him. If he were emancipated to-morrow he wouldn't know what to do with his freedom. He would go to the movies.

They have achieved an unparalleled standard of living for most people; or rather we have, for essentially (except for our little island) the one general civilization stretches from Alaska to Mexico. And then they have to go to the movies to get away from it for a few hours. The movie palaces, gorgeous like Turkish harems and the palaces of Chinese emperors, are the real cathedrals and shrines of this era.

On them is lavished the genius of architect, dramatist and actor. In them human nature finds its highest moments of emotional excitement. They are the sanctuary from which the conquerors of air and land and sea, the victors over nature and the universe, can flee from their conquests and victories and watch ancient fairy tales wrapped in modern cellophane. The yellow canopy in the grand entrance hall of the movie palace nibbles the green leaves of the vines draped on the nearby pillar and it has become so civilized, along with the human prisoners, that it hasn't perceived yet that the vine is artificial and made of green paper.

PROTEST

AS WE COME OUT of the Babylonian temple into the streets of Seattle, we encountered a truly beautiful phenomenon, which no one else seemed to notice. Here amid these myriads of automobiles, traffic signals, whirling gadgets of every sort, this ordered chaos of machinery, an old man with a long white beard walked

GREAT CROWD AT CAUSEWAY

Massed Choir and Fire-works Conclude Dominion Day Celebrations

A raw wind failed to dampen the holiday ardor of Victorians yesterday and they turned out by the thousands to attend the public events arranged for the day. Hundreds of others took the occasion for private outings in the country.

Yesterday evening's events in front of the Parliament Buildings drew the largest crowds.

The programme there started with presentation of the best citizen medal to Capt. Burgess J. Gadsden. This was followed by a massed choir concert from a barge in the harbor and topped with a magnificent display of fireworks.

Earlier in the day sports events were well attended. They included baseball games at the Royal Athletic Park, the play-off in the Connaght Cup soccer series, a regatta at the Gorge and an intercity cricket match at the University School grounds.

"Klondike Night" and the swimming gala arranged by the United Commercial Travelers at the Crystal Garden was a popular attraction.

Excursions both to and from the city were well patronized. Approximately 900 persons came down from Vancouver on the Princess Marguerite and the Princess Elizabeth took out a capacity load to Seattle. Officially marking the opening of the holiday season, the week-end saw hundreds of Victorians moving out to summer camps.

MASSED CHOIR
The massed choir under Frank Tupperman opened the ceremony by the singing of "The Maple Leaf." The choir was accompanied by an orchestra under Leader Al. Prescott.

The massed choir and orchestra then gave a programme, opening with "O Canada" and including anthems from the classical oratorios.

The programme was concluded by the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus." One of the features of the programme was the playing of a cornet solo by Paul Green of Sullivan's "Lost Chord."

As a crowning climax to yesterday evening's festivities on the Causeway, the fireworks display from a barge in the Inner Harbor brought the holiday programme to a close. Immediately the massed choir concert was over a bomb rocket was sent up, exploding into a rain of fire. In quick succession star shells and rainbows of green, red, yellow, orange, blue and silver were sent up to the accompaniment of applause from the vast crowd which thronged all sides of the harbor.

Stories in STAMPS

DISCOVERED A MISTAKE

THE SAILS of the Portuguese clipper were beginning to flap listlessly under an slackening wind, and its commander, Pedro Alvarez Cabral, saw that he was entering the doldrums. He was on his way to India, by the same route Columbus had taken eight years earlier. Seeing that he might soon be becalmed, he steered a course more directly west. Suddenly he struck a strange current that carried his vessel even faster than the weakened wind down the coast of South America.

Before he realized it, Pedro Cabral had struck land. By this inadvertent turn of fate, this Portuguese explorer, who had been sent by the great Vasco de Gama to open a route to India, discovered what now is Brazil and took possession of the land in the name of the King of Portugal.

Although Martin Alonso Pinzon, a Spaniard, had arrived at the Amazon a few months earlier, Cabral's discovery is considered the real beginning of the history of this country.

Brazil remembers this navigator on one of its stamps in a series which it issued in 1906, honoring the great men of its history.

Holiday Resorts Open Along P.E.G.; All-cost Vacation Tours

MARGARET L. MURRAY
Holiday resorts served by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway are making a drive to attract attention to the advantage of a holiday spent by coast dwellers in the dry-belt and have co-operated with the management to make a all-cost holiday rate that should appeal and bring people to the Cariboo and Lillooet who have never considered it before. Adopting a slogan "Cariboo Conserve" they offer an entirely different setting from anything else in British Columbia or Washington. The climate is ideal for the next four months and the high altitude and bright sunshine acts as a tonic to coast dwellers.

Cariboo lakes are famous for the fish supply seemingly undiminished during the years. Lakes along the railway have been restocked and have been known to produce trout weighing a to fifteen pounds in three years. The Dominion Government Fisheries Department assisted in keeping the river lakes under supervision and where on the North American continent is the angler rewarded more generously than in the area of the fish served by the government own railway.

Taking advantage of the condition of the up-country roads the resorts and the railway have worked out an all-cost holiday plan including railway fare to and from Vancouver as well as board and lodging. The motor, etc. are urged to leave their cars in the garages and make a rest from driving. Adverse criticism of the highways have discouraged those from the other side of the United States boundary.

FIRST CLASS R.R. SERVICE
Transportation on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is equal to that of the transcontinental. By profitable operation over the past two years the directors have improved service to that of the privately owned lines. Pullman and dining service, courteous employees and a scenic route that is unsurpassed.

All resorts co-operating are adjacent to the railway and drive in a buckboard from the station to the ranch resort is attractive to one seeking such a holiday. If frontier has not been rolled so fastback in the Lillooet and Cariboo neighbors have lost the art of staying stories or making the odd he trade. Riding the ranges is still a pastime of the cowboys and the ogirls and a gathering of riders in a show of daredevil stunts withdraw a larger crowd than a picnic show or a political meeting.

Resorts are still in the stage of being run under the personal supervision of the owner. Old ranches that refused to pay depends on the "hood" have been turned into dude ranches by the children's children. The proud host of descendants is to carry on the tradition of hospitality. Hostilities the served from the days of the gold rush through Fort Douglas and the Herson Seton Waterways have undergone a face lifting experiment in weathered log exteriors reveal a stern interior as smart as a city hotel. The original charm has not been washed for the demand of time. The P.E.G. offers much for the holiday and Vancouver Island is invited to consider the advantages derived in a change so complete and so neat hand.

Lodge To Meet—Dealers of St. George will hold their usual business meeting on Wednesday evening in S.O.E. Hall at 8 o'clock. Officers and guard team will meet 9 o'clock for drill practice.

PIRATES OF VENUS

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1935

The fruits and nuts were unlike any with which I was familiar, both in appearance and flavor; the bread was coarse but delicious; and the honey, if such it were, suggested candied violets to the taste. The milk (I can find no other earthly word to describe it) was strong and pungent, yet far from unpleasant. I imagined at the time that one might grow to be quite fond of it.

The table utensils are similar to those with which we are familiar in civilized portions of the earth; there were hollowed instruments with which to dip or scoop, sharp cups with which to cut, and others with which to eat. There was also a handled pusher, which I recommended to earthy hostesses. All these were made of wood.

When I ate, the three men conversed earnestly, one or another of them occasionally offering me more food. They seemed hospitable and courteous and I felt that if they were typical of the inhabitants of Venus I should find my life here a pleasant one. That it would not be a bed of roses, however, I was made aware by the weapons that the men constantly wore; one does not carry a sword and a dagger about with him unless he expects to have occasion to use them, except on dress parade.

When I had finished my meal, two of the men escorted me from the room by a rear doorway, up a flight of circular stairs, and thence into a small chamber. The stairway and corridor were illuminated by a small lamp similar to that which hung in the room where I had eaten, and light from this lamp shone through the heavy wooden grating of the door, into the room where I was now locked, and where my captors left me to my own devices.

Upon the floor was a soft mattress over which were spread coverings of a silky texture. It being very warm, I removed all my clothing except my undershorts and lay down to sleep. I was tired after my arduous descent of the giant tree and dozed almost immediately. I awoke, however, at once, and found that I had not been suddenly startled to wakefulness by a repetition of that hideous scream with which the beast that had pursued me through the tree had announced its rage and chagrin when I had eluded it.

However, it was not long before I fell asleep, my mind filled with a chaos of fragmentary recollections of my stupendous adventure.

When I awoke, it was quite light in the room, and through a window I saw the foliage of trees, lavender and heliotrope and violet in the light of a new day. I arose and went to the window. I saw no sign of sunlight, yet a brightness equivalent to sunlight pervaded everything. The air was warm and sultry. Below me I could see sections of various causeways extending from tree to tree. On some of these I caught glimpses of people. All the men were naked, except for loincloths, nor did I wonder at their scant apparel, in the light of my experience of the temperatures of Venus. There were both men and women; and all the men were armed with swords and daggers, while the women carried daggers only. All those whom I saw seemed to be of the same age; there were neither children nor old people among them. All appeared comely.

From my barred window I caught a glimpse of the ground, but as far down as I could see there was only the amazing foliage of the trees, lavender, heliotrope, and violet. And what trees! From my window I could see several enormous boles fully 200 feet in diameter. I had thought that the tree I descended, but compared with these, it was only a sapling. As I stood contemplating the scene before me, there was a noise at the door behind me. Turning, I saw one of my captors entering the room. He greeted me with a few words, which I could not understand, and a pleasant smile, that I could. I returned his smile and said, "Good morning!"

He beckoned to me to follow him from the room, but I made signs indicating that I wished to don my clothes first. I knew I should be hot and uncomfortable in them; I was aware that no one I had seen here wore any clothing, yet so powerful are the inhibitions of custom and habit that I shrank from doing the sensible thing and wearing only my undershorts.

At first, when he realized what I wished to do, he seemed to leave my clothes where they were and come with him as I was; but eventually he gave in with another of his

Dance Recital Colorful Affair

The gymnasium of Cranleigh House school was filled to capacity on Friday evening when Miss Mollie Milton and her pupils presented their first recital to a highly appreciative audience.

Extra numbers in the programme which gave pleasure to two pianoforte selections by Mrs. Stone, who accompanied the children in all their dances, and two recitations, "Mr. Nobody," by May Shrimpton and "Nine Times Six," by Mary Lister.

The recital opened with examples of class work by juniors and seniors showing the thoroughness of the training given and the high standard of technique.

Audrey Murdoch, Myrtle Skelton, Ruth McNeilly, May Shrimpton, Margaret McMartin and Mary Clark all danced with laudable precision in "Black Nags," an English folk dance.

"Skipping Redwa," a difficult dance for beginners, was admirably performed by a group of five, and two little Dutch Twins, Myrtle Skelton and Audrey Murdoch, delighted with a simple clog dance.

Miss Milton herself gave three solo performances, "Russian Peasant Dance," full of swift action and colorful grace, "Staircase Tune," a complicated and difficult tap dance carried out while in the act of ascending and descending a flight of stairs, and finally a very beautiful classical "Pas Seul," a ballet dance in the execution of which the young teacher exemplified such perfection of technique and charm that she won round after round of applause.

Another soloist to win recognition was Audrey Patrick, a talented little artist, who presented "Waltz Clog" and "Lullaby of Broadway," both excellently performed.

Four tiny tots, Doris Shrimpton, Betty Jameson, Ann Rogers and Marilyn Rogers, dressed in costumes of colorful and elaborate design, danced an Irish Lilt with a naivety and a seriousness that delighted the audience. Audrey Murdoch was the soloist for this number.

A wild gypsy dance, with tambourines and vivacious "Taran-tella," was given with joyful abandon by Mary Clarke and Joan Rogers as boys, the girls being Pat Robertson and Joan Gibson.

The most heartily applauded chorus dance of the evening was "Side-walks of New York," in which six girls appropriately costumed tapped out the well-known tune, keeping perfect time and evidently enjoying themselves.

The closing number, a scarf dance, was beautifully staged and gracefully executed by Margaret McMartin, Myrtle Skelton, Ruth McNeilly, Mary Clarke, Audrey Murdoch and May Shrimpton.

After the recital the whole gathering adjourned to the school, where Mrs. Milton, assisted by a group of ladies from the audience, served refreshments.

Recent Weddings

June lived up to its traditional reputation as the month of weddings and Saturday saw a number of popular Victoria couples launched on the sea of matrimony. At one appropriately pretty ceremony, two sisters were united in a double wedding.

HUBBARD—PRETTY

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a double wedding on Saturday evening at 8.15 o'clock, when Dewa C. E. Quainton united in marriage Phyllis May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Pretty, 2340 Trent Street, and Mr. Hugh Gordon MacKenzie, second son of Mr. and Mrs. H. MacKenzie, 1061 Oliver Street, and Edith Victoria, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pretty, who became the bride of Mr. Archibald Victor Hubbard, second son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hubbard, 2915 Harriet Road. Mr. Richard Eaton played the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by Mr. Pretty, both brides wore princess gowns of ivory satin with short trains, long sleeves, and deep cool necks at the back. A crystal buckle finished the narrow girdle at the waistline, and a crystal brooch caught the flat bow at the neck.

Their veils of embroidered silk net were arranged with orange blossoms and they carried sheaves of calla lilies.

Each was attended by one senior bridesmaid, and one junior. They were dressed alike in frocks of white lace and white organza hats trimmed with grograin ribbon and clusters of orange blossoms in front. They carried bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades.

The groomsmen was Mr. John Mueser of Bellingham, and the ushers were Messrs. Barry J. Millar of Bellingham, Paul McMahon of Seattle, David Carmichael, brother of the bride, and Fred E. Norris.

St. Mary's Church was beautifully decorated with summer flowers in white and pastel shades on Saturday evening for the marriage of Kathleen Patricia, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, 1932 St. Ann Street, and Mr. Edward Eldridge Jukes, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jukes of Bellingham, Wash.

Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunna officiated and Mr. F. T. C. Wickett was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, made a radiant picture in her wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned on simple lines. Her exquisite veil of Brussels lace, which had been worn by her paternal grandmother, was arranged with real orange blossoms, sent from the south for the ceremony. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

There were three attendants. Miss Jean Mainwaring Johnson was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Jean Campbell and Miss Isabel Henderson of Bellingham. They were dressed alike in frocks of white lace and white organza hats trimmed with grograin ribbon and clusters of orange blossoms in front. They carried bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades.

W.C.T.U. URGE BEER CONTEST

U.S. Group Sarcastically
Proposes Nation-wide
Drinking Marathon

Associated Press
Evanston, Ill., July 2.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union, in a statement issued Saturday, suggested a nation-wide beer drinking contest. Aimed at the beer guzzling bout scheduled at Milwaukee Saturday night, the statement said: "It would be of more constructive value to plan a nation-wide marathon in which some of the many hidden qualities of the amber liquid might be brought to light more vividly. "While the perspiring drinkers at Milwaukee are contending for individual prize awards for speed and capacity indulgence, why should not such a nation-wide marathon be sponsored by the government and underwritten by those who before repeal predicted that the beer trade and liquor traffic, legalized, would pay off the government deficit, and unemployment and achieve a new era of universal temperance. "Such a national marathon might well enlist the co-operation of competing non-alcoholic beverages, in view of the fact that while 50,000,000 barrels of beer were being consumed in the United States during the twelve months ending March 31, 1935, the official statistics reveal an almost coincident slump approximating 1,000,000,000 cups of coffee and a drop in milk consumption aggregating, for example, more than 20,000,000 quarts in the New York area alone."

Church Parade—Orange Juvenile Association, Pride of Victoria No. 85, officers and members are requested to meet in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, on Sunday night, July 7, at 10:30 a.m. sharp, to attend church parade.

SCOTT-SHOTBOLT

Of unusual interest and beauty was the wedding solemnized in Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Dean Quinlan united in marriage Ellen Eileen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shotbolt, 2313 Quadra Street, and granddaughter of the late Mr. Thomas Shotbolt and Captain F. Cole, two pioneer Victorians, to Thomas Brainerd Scott, third son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Scott, 1186 Pandora Avenue, and of the late Mr. Scott.

Entering the church to the strains of the wedding music played by Mr. Richard Eaton, the bride was a striking figure in her graceful wedding gown of ivory satin, with long, full train. The empire bodice, with its soft cowl neckline and low cut back, had long dolman sleeves, confined at the wrists with deep, pointed cuffs. She wore a veil of exquisite Honiton lace, which had been worn by the bridegroom's maternal grandfather, and was confined to the head with a triple strand of orange blossoms across the brow, and a single strand at the nape of the neck. Her shower bouquet was of sweetheart roses, sweet peas and swansonia.

Mrs. Gordon Sward was the matron of honor in a gown of yellow satin, finished with a large bow below the waist at the back, and worn with a ruffled cape and a matching mohair hat. She carried a sheaf of gladioli in two shades of orchid.

Miss Gertrude Scott was the bridesmaid, in an attractive sleeveless frock of Marina blue tulle with a ruffled neckline, finished with a cowl back, and the long skirt ended with three rows of ruffles above the hem. She wore a mohair hat to match her dress, and carried a sheaf of gladioli in yellow and orange tones.

Two charming little flower girls were Shirley Gunn, in otchid, and Betty Curney in pink. Kate Green wore a frock of silver lace, and carried Colonial posies of roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Gordon Sward was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Edward Fox, Mr. James Dangerfield and Mr. Bruce Low.

Masses of summer flowers were arranged in the reception rooms at the home of the bride's parents, where the many guests were welcomed, the reception taking on additional interest by its co-incidence with the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Shotbolt.

Mrs. Shotbolt received in a gown of hyacinth blue lace with white accessories, and Mrs. Scott was in midnight blue triple sheer crepe and a grey hat.

The young couple stood in a flower-decked window embrasure between tall standard baskets filled with flowers, to receive the good wishes of their friends, and later supper was served on a table arranged with vases of roses and sweet peas, and centred with the wedding cake.

After a wedding trip spent motoring in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Scott will make their home at Nahmint Bay. The bride traveled in a yellow woolen suit with a Chartreuse green overcoat, a yellow and brown silk and straw hat and white accessories.

Larsen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Loue A. Larsen of Kamloops. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of navy blue triple sheer with a jacket of white matelasse crepe and large white hat. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, pink and white carnations and white sweet peas.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Eleanor Curtis, in a frock of powder blue heavy flat crepe, white felt hat and white accessories, carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations, pink sweet peas and blue delphiniums.

The groom was supported by Mr. Clinton Mayhew of Vancouver. A reception was held at 8 o'clock in the evening in the C.C.F. Hall, which was beautifully decorated with delphiniums, Canterbury bells and Madonna lilies under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Bayliss. A buffet supper was served from a table centred with a three-tier wedding cake and arranged with pink and mauve sweet peas.

Mrs. Curtis, in a gown of dusty pink and white felt hat, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Clinton Mayhew of Vancouver, in a gown of black triple sheer trimmed with white and hat en suite. They both wore a corsage of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mackenzie entertained the guests with piano and violin duets. Mr. "Bootsy" McKensie acting as master of ceremonies for the dance which followed.

Among the many gifts received was a silver tea service and tray from the bridegroom's fellow employees of the mechanical department of the C.N.R. at Victoria.

The bride traveled in a swaggy suit of navy blue tweed and navy hat. After a honeymoon spent on the mainland, they will make their home in Kamloops.

Young Musicians
Present Recital

Piano duets and solos were excellently given by the following pupils: Rita Nevard, Joyce Daisiel, Grace Shubbrook, Billy Daisiel, Betty Ralfe, Myrtle Shaw, Netta Hunter, Marjorie Kinsey, Barbara Woolley.

During the evening Miss North gave special mention of the pupils gaining certificates in the recent examinations of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music (London). The successful pupils were: Singing, Eleanor Boyd-Wallis and Helen Hubey. At the close of the programme Marjorie Kinsey presented Miss North with a beautiful bouquet as a token of appreciation from the pupils, after which dainty refreshments were served.

the schoolroom of the Metropolitan Church on Friday evening, July 5, at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. Pendray, accompanied by Mrs. Pendray, spent six months recently touring the Orient, New Zealand and islands of the South Seas. During that time he secured many splendid motion pictures of the places visited, some of which are in natural colors and should prove of great interest. Musical numbers will be given by well-known soloists, Miss Edith Howell and Mr. James Fetrie.

GROCERIA

Have you found the
on your grocer's shelf?

It's a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. Millions of Canadians have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, effective means of correcting common constipation—the kind caused by lack of "bulk" in the menu.

Laboratory measurements show that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamins B and iron.

The "bulk" in this tempting cereal is more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables—because it resists digestion better. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this cleans out the intestinal waste.

Isn't this natural food better than taking potent medicines? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with constipation. If this fails to give relief, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Then Terry acquired Mark Koenig and Allyn Stout for Billy Myers and cash. Koenig, the shouters said, was all washed up—but he stepped into play regularly in three infield spots.

Gus Mancuso also was all done, they said, but Terry got him in his place. "He's justified when Mancuso played regularly behind the bat and whaled the horsehide for around 300 throughout the spring. Then, too, Terry had more than a little to do with the development of the young pitchers, Slick Gossage and Al Smith."

A revised line-up that didn't include Al Simmons, $27,500 a year outfielder, staged a nine-hit attack featured by Rip Radcliff's circuit blow, a triple and a double by Zeke Bonura and doubles by Washington and Piet.

Manager Jim Dykes benched Jackie Hayes and used Piet at second, put Washington in Simmons's place and Bell at first for Jack Burns. Lyn Lary played shortstop.

South Africa Cricketers Register Victory In Test Match

THE SPORTS MIRROR

WITHIN the week crack marksmen will start firing at Blisley in the annual empire rifle meet which year after year attracts the best shots of countries under the Union Jack. But the usual interest which the major contests have held for Victoria will be somewhat lacking owing to the fact that the city will not enjoy the representation which has been its privilege in most other Blisley shoots.

However, former associations will make the most all interesting to not only those who have made the trip to the famous ranges, but to those who have followed it year by year.

Canada's team, reputedly one of the strongest the Dominion has ever sent, a formidable combination of brilliancy and experience, hopes not only to match the Dominion's wonderful record last year but to excel it, and possibly again capture the King's Prize, the classic for marksmen. The last occasion for Canada was in 1929 when Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair of Vancouver took the blue ribbon of empire marksmanship.

This being the silver jubilee year of the King, the empire meeting over Blisley's far-spreading ranges takes on a new note. The congregation of the military teams from all parts of the empire in some measure will compensate the fact that the empire's fighting services abroad were not represented during the jubilee celebrations.

The coronation year, 1911, was not one of Canada's great years at Blisley, though they won the Mackinnon Challenge Cup on that occasion. Since then however the men from the Dominion have become most prominent of the overseas invaders, and if they can go on where they left off in 1934 it should be almost a clean sweep for Canada.

For a year ago, with much the same outfit as in the way over, the Canadians cleaned up with young Lieut. P. J. Martinson of La Tuque, Quebec, very much to the fore. In team prizes, the Canadians regained the Knapdale Cup from the Mother Country and they regained the Mackinnon Challenge Cup from Scotland. These are the two greatest of team shoots for marksmen.

In the two big aggregates, Martinson won the all-comers outright with a magnificent total of 331 out of 340, and he tied with Major Charles Bunch, formerly R.A.F., to win the Grand Aggregate, an even more varied test.

In the individual shoots a year ago Canada was at the top on most occasions, to lose many prizes in the shoot-off. But Martinson won the bronze medal in the King's Prize, the Knapdale and Mackinnon, the Canadians in this silver jubilee year are even more intent on getting Canada's seventh victory in the King's Prize. Their last was in 1929, in a memorable shoot-off in which Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair of Vancouver ousted Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa, who won the classic himself in 1924.

Cranleigh School Closing Exercises

When Cranleigh House School closed for the summer vacation on Thursday, the headmaster, C. V. Milton, awarded a prize for 100 per cent attendance for the school year to Peter Horsfield. This is the fifth successive year that such a prize has been taken by Horsfield, and in June, 1930, he only missed it by 2 per cent. The Rev. Canon Nunn attended before the close of the term and delivered a farewell address to the boys. On Wednesday afternoon a number of parents and friends witnessed the playing of the tennis finals. Geoffrey Rotham won the junior title, defeating Chum Carley.

At the commencement of the senior game it looked like a walkover for M. J. Harniman, who won the first set easily, 6-0. But P. Jeanneret came back strong in the second, which he took 6-0, winning the title by running away in the third set, 6-1. The visitors, represented by H. P. Hope, Mrs. Horsfield, Mrs. Forster and C. V. Milton, won three matches from the boys.

Tea was served in the garden by Mrs. Milton and Miss Molly Milton.

Initial Win On English Soil By Decisive Margin

Springboks Turn Back Pride of England By 157 Runs at Lord's

MITCHELL PUTS UP FINE 164

Canadian Press
London, July 2.—South Africa defeated England by 157 runs at historic Lord's cricket ground today, the victory being the first ever recorded by the Springboks in a test match on English soil.

The match concluded today was the second of five tests to be played this summer between the two countries. The first was played at Nottingham two weeks ago ending in a draw when rain prevented play on the third day.

Bowling strength kept the touring cricketers on top throughout the second test. They scored 328 and 278 for seven wickets, declared. They dismissed the finest of England's players for 198 and 151.

A. B. C. Langton, medium fast bowler from the Transvaal, and Xenophon Balaskas, young Greek spin bowler, shared honors with Bruce Mitchell, first wicket batsman, as a result of today's great victory.

DEADLY WICKET
England collapsed in bad fashion today on wicket made treacherous by overnight rain. Langton captured four wickets for thirty-one runs and Balaskas four for fifty-four. The latter obtained five for forty-nine in England's first innings.

Mitchell stayed at the wickets throughout South Africa's second innings and was unbeaten with 164 runs when Herbert Wade, the captain, decided to declare the innings closed. When his colleagues failed to master the English attack, Mitchell played carefully, scoring most of his runs with cuts and off-drives. He was at the wickets five hours, thirty-six minutes, and hit seven boundaries.

Needless to say victory England went to bat shortly before lunch. Wyatt scored sixteen when he played on to Balaskas. Herbert Sutcliffe, handicapped by an injured leg, hit thirty-eight and Wally Hammond twenty-seven. The remaining wickets went down like ninepins, James Langridge and William Parsonage being the only players to reach double figures.

Bruce Mitchell and A. B. C. Langton resumed for the Springboks today. When play closed yesterday Mitchell had scored 129 and his colleague eleven. Scoring was at a slow rate today.

With the score at 248 E. R. T. Jones failed to take a chance to dismiss Langton off Wally Hammond. Mitchell batted cautiously and Langton was finally caught and bowled by Hammond when he had scored forty-four and the total stood at 278. Mitchell was still unbeaten with 164 runs to his credit.

Herbert Wade, Springbok captain, then declared the innings closed. Herbert Sutcliffe and Captain R. E. Wyatt were again the opening pair for the home team. The Yorkshireman hurt his leg while fielding yesterday and George Hart, young Middlesex professional, came out to run for him. At the lunch interval Wyatt had scored eleven and Sutcliffe six.

THE CROWD
The crowd increased to 10,000 after lunch. Wyatt experienced difficulty in playing the deliveries of Balaskas. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Cardinals Score Double Victory

Continuing their victorious march, Kreg's Cardinals of Victoria checked in with two more softball wins at the expense of a visiting team when they defeated the Nagsmo Blue Ribbons 17 to 13 and 19 to 16 in a double-header played at the Central Park grounds yesterday afternoon.

The locals, who are leading the women's section of the Lower Island Softball Association, played an undefeated record to date, were forced to play heads up ball all the way.

ALAN MACEY GOLF CHAMP

Captures Championship of Tillamook Athletic Club With Net Score of 67

Shooting the eighteen holes at the Colwood Golf Club in 78, which his twelve handicap reduced to 66, A. Macey captured the third annual Tillamook Athletic Club tournament Sunday afternoon. Macey just managed to nose out Bob Morrison, F. B. Richardson and I. Keating, who came home with net 68s. Ted Colgate with 69 and J. H. Lee with a 70 were right on the heels of a total of 71.

Bob Morrison, the long-hitting ace from the Uplands Club, played great golf throughout the tournament and would have undoubtedly hung up a course record had he not faltered badly on the par three fifteenth hole, taking a seven after "shanking" his tee shot and running into some mighty tough trouble in the woods. He completed the first nine holes in 34 and the second nine in 37 for a total of 71.

Finishing all square on the eighteenth green, Phil Taylor, Oak Bay professional, and Freddy Burns, Macaulay Club, split the special prize with Freddy Chink, Gorge Vale Club, and Joe Pryke, Colwood.

PRIZEWINNERS
Complete prize list follows: Low net, eighteen holes, A. Macey; low gross, eighteen holes, Bob Morrison; second low net, eighteen holes, F. B. Richardson; third low net, eighteen holes, J. H. ### STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

One of the most dramatic events of the great Sepoy revolt against British authority in India in 1857 was the defence of the Residency at Lucknow by a handful of English soldiers, loyal natives and volunteer civilians. Less than a thousand soldiers, aided by about 700 natives and a few score civilians, held out against the besieging hordes of revolting native troops that at one time numbered 60,000 men.

The defenders of Lucknow concentrated in the Residency when the siege began, holding out alone, with dwindling supplies, from June 30 to late in September. At that time a small force penetrated the hostile lines to join them, but no substantial relief came until the middle of November. All that time the defenders kept the British flag flying over their battlements—and even to-day, though the building is a mere shell, the flag still flies.

The Japanese, noted the world over for their love of exotic art, are with cut a word in their language to express the English equivalent of the word "art." The best they can do is use a compounded word borrowed from the Chinese. It is "bi-jutu," "bi" meaning beautiful, elegant, or fine. "Jutu," however, means trick or rule. Thus "bi-jutu," the only word they have to express the idea of fine art, may also mean beautiful craft or elegant trick.

House of David Ball Team Plays To-morrow Evening

One of the most colorful baseball teams to ever visit Victoria will be seen in action at the Athletic Club to-morrow evening when the House of David, Benton Harbor, Michigan, oppose the Victoria Sons of Canada club in an exhibition fixture. Play will get under way at 6 o'clock.

Feature of the game will be the appearance of the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander on the mound for the Davidans. Rated one of the greatest pitchers in the history of the diamond sport "Old Alex" will hurl the first three innings for the tourists. Alexander is manager of the House of David team.

Another treat for the fans will be the famous pepper game to be staged by the touring players in the fifth inning. This play has proven quite popular throughout the tour of the bewiskered team and no doubt the Victoria followers will get a kick out of the antics. Carl Friend, Tacoma, will pitch for Victoria, and Tommy James, another Tacoma, will occupy the shortstop position.

Scores 147 as Victoria Defeats Vancouver Handily in First of Inter-city Series; Locals Put Up 295 For Six

As Reg Wenman led the way with 147 runs before he was stumped by Percy Broadfoot on Henson's bowling, Victoria took the first of two annual inter-city cricket games at University School yesterday. The Victorians compiled a total of 295 runs for six wickets, declaring to give the Vancouver team a chance to effect that total. Vancouver replied with 186 wickets falling cheaply at the fall. The second game will be played on the mainland on Labor Day.

Going to the wicket Wenman partnered Poynts and started hitting out. Poynts left early with three runs only to his credit.

Dorothy Round In Surprise Defeat

DOUG PEDEN IS DEFEATED

Stratford, Ont., July 2.—Doug Peden, Victoria, brother of the marathoning Torchy Peden, won a heat yesterday but was knocked out of the final contest in the annual bicycle championships of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association here. Toronto riders, led by Douglas Peace, who won three championships himself, won all contests.

Peden came second in the second heat of the 440-yard senior event; won first in the third heat of the five-mile senior, and with Albert Heaton, Toronto, came second in the pursuit race.

LALLY TROPHY TO CANADIANS

Capture Lacrosse Championship By Defeating U.S. Squad For Third Time

Vancouver, July 2.—The Lally Trophy, battered mug that means international lacrosse supremacy to the holders, came back to Canada to-day for the first time since 1932. A picked team of British Columbians, representing the Dominion, yesterday evening handed the All-American intercollegiate team a 14 to 9 defeat.

It was the Canadian's third straight victory in the best-of-five series, and gave them possession of the trophy.

The game, although not up to the brand served up in the previous two encounters, provided its share of thrills for some 8,000 fans.

The visitors continued their methodical brand of play, while the British Columbia squad performed loosely at times, brilliantly at others. Little Alfie Davis, one of the smartest scorers in the intercollegiate, finally broke through the American defence yesterday evening and started his teammates on the way to victory with a pair of quick goals in the first quarter. From then on the issue was never in doubt.

Hammons of the visitors was high individual scorer of the night with five goals to his credit.

Nanaimo Scores Soccer Victory

Nanaimo, July 2.—Nanaimo advanced to the third round of the Comnaught cup football series here yesterday by upsetting out Johnston Nationals of Vancouver by 4 to 3 score. It was a hard-fought game, with Gordie Bell, Victoria winger, garnering the winning goal with a beautiful shot five minutes from the finish.

Newmarket, Eng., July 2.—King George, present at the first day of the July race meeting here, saw his colt Bonnie Dundee, ridden by Fred Fox, easily win the Botolpham Stakes over a mile.

Percy Payne Stars In Cricket Victory

Vancouver, July 2.—Falling victims to the innocent looking slowest set down by Percy Payne, Vancouver mid-week representative cricketers put up a weak display in the holiday encounter at Brockton Point on Monday. Batting one and a half hours for the mediocre total of 62, the locals were all at sea with the single exception of the veteran Tom Smith, who collected high score. Reliable work in the field assisted Victoria's skipper to return the meritorious analysis of nine wickets for thirty-nine runs.

Victoria encountered no serious trouble passing the meagre total set. In a second innings an opening partnership by Lange and Cool brought a sparkle of brightness to the mainland supporters and the team applied the declaration rule with 127 for eight wickets on the board.

The island visitors hit off the few runs necessary to take an easy win for the loss of three wickets.

British Star and Defending Champ Eliminated From Wimbledon Tennis By Joan Hartigan, Australia; Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, In One-sided Win

London, July 2.—Miss Dorothy Round, the defending champion, was eliminated from the All-England tennis championships to-day when she lost her quarter-final match to the little Australian, Joan Hartigan, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Hartigan scored the biggest upset of the tournament so far when she rallied after losing the first set, to score an impressive victory.

Miss Round was not on top of her game.

Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist, Australia, moved into the third round of the men's doubles by defeating H. J. Ritchie and Nigel Sharpe, England, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

MRS. MOODY WINS
Mrs. Helen Wills Moody won the first set, 6-2, in her quarter-final match against the formidable French player, Mme. Rene Mathieu.

Using nothing but fierce drives from the baseline, Mrs. Moody ran up a lead of 5-1 in games in the first set before the French matron rallied. The Californian star displayed her old-time accuracy and power with both the forehand and backhand.

Mrs. Moody won the second set, 6-0, and the match. She will meet Miss Hartigan in the semi-final.

Katherine Stammers, another prominent British player, was eliminated, 7-5, 7-5, by Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, Germany.

Mrs. Moody lost only seven points as she loosed a devastating offensive in the second set, winning three games at love and one time winning eleven consecutive points.

Her blistering drives, spotted within a foot of either corner, had her opponent helpless.

Feature of yesterday's play was the small victory of Don Budge, Oakland, California, over H. W. (Bunny) Austin, British Davis Cup star, in the quarter-finals, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4, 7-5. In the other matches, Jack Crawford, Australia, defeated Sidney Wood, New York, 6-4, 6-3, 6-8, 5-7, 6-1, and Fred Perry defeated Frederick Mennel, Czechoslovakia, 6-7, 6-1, 6-4.

Helen Jacobs, winner of the United States championship the last three years, won the first set, 6-1, from Mile. Jadwiga Jedzejowska, Poland, and then captured the second set, 6-7, and the match. Her opponent in the penultimate round will be Frau Sperling.

CATCHES TWO BIG SALMON

Herb Cummins Lands Two Thirty-pound Springs at Brentwood Bay

A crown of piscatorial glory covers the head of Herbie Cummins, of Ryan Wilson and Co., for inside of a week he has pulled out of Brentwood Bay two fish which tipped the scales at over thirty pounds.

The first spring which he caught a week ago earned him a silver button. It weighed thirty and one-half pounds.

Yesterday, when trolling opposite Bamerton, he hooked a bigger one still. After it had put up a great fight he hauled it on board and made for the scales. The salmon weighed thirty-four and one-half pounds.

Mr. Cummins' only regret is that he did not catch the fish the day before, as there was no competition on Dominion Day. He now has secured first prize on Sunday as the biggest fish caught weighed only twenty-five pounds.

The fisherman has his prize in cold storage at Ryan, Wilson and Company at the present moment.

Addison Star As Victoria Fliers Win Major Honors

Bring Back Ten Firsts and Several Places From Police, Powell River and C.C.F. Sports

DALE DISPLAYS SPLENDID FORM

Back home after a three-meet tour, Victoria's Winged Fliers rested today on their laurels, victors in ten events in the Vancouver Police, Powell River and C.C.F. athletic contests over the week-end. That number did not include the six individual triumphs scored by Joe Addison, star of the team, in the Vancouver Police meet. In those sports Addison competed solely in the events closed to policemen.

In addition, the local team had gained another half score place in the different meets, and pushed an all-star British Columbia relay team to a new Canadian record to win, and Addison had hung up a new native British Columbia record for the quarter-mile. Addison beat Cecil Hay's long standing mark by a narrow margin in winning the four-forty in 49-2-3 seconds at Powell River yesterday.

NICE SHOWING

Going to Powell River the select Y team turned in a brilliant performance yesterday with Addison setting the new British Columbia native quarter-mile record. He also took the hurdles to take aggregate honors. Dale measured his half mile nicely at the pulp and paper town, letting Gaunt set the pace half the way and then breezing through to win in 2 minutes 2-3 seconds.

He looked around the mile to take a second place. Owen Bentley surprised the following by nipping a third in the century dash, and Gaunt took thirds in the half and quarter with Paul Howe finishing third in the 220.

Wilson Johnson took two junior third places in the 100 and 220 sprints. The Victoria Y team, running their fastest men first, led to the final exchange in the feature 880 yard relay. At that point Vince Forbes, Powell River flier, picked up on Alce Gaunt and turned on the heat to win. Pushed by the Victoria boys, the team set up a new Canadian relay mark.

C.C.F. MEET

At the C.C.F. meet in Vancouver, Chuck Cunningham won the half and the mile handily. "Porky" Andrews, he of the Blue Ribbons, took the under eighteen century and furlong dashes, while Fred Smith, Victoria High school boy, won the under sixteen 100. Smith placed second to Andrews in the under eighteen hundred and the latter gained another second place in the senior hurdles. Fred Loeffler was second to J. Palmer in the big thirteen and one-quarter mile road race, one of the features of the meet. The winner finished 11 minutes under last year's time.

RESULTS

Ferry Broadfoot put up forty-nine in Vancouver's reply and W. G. Scott added fifty-nine before he was run out. Roughton reached double figures with twenty-four and Johnson with twenty-six, but the remaining batsmen could not fathom the bowling, and five was the next highest score. In the bowling lists Jack Payne took four Vancouver wickets for fifty-nine runs in eighteen overs, while Hamber copped three for thirty-five in nine. Wenman and G. Payne each took one.

Henson, with two wickets to his credit, led the Vancouver bowlers. Wenman was missed twice before he reached ten. Scores follow:

A. MANN WINS TIMES TROPHY

Lighter Crew Carries Off Through-Victoria Fours Race at Gorge Regatta

Sprinting ahead in the last quarter mile of the two and a half mile course, Arnold Mann yesterday afternoon carried off The Victoria Daily Times perpetual trophy for the through-Victoria single skiffs race in the regatta held at the Gorge. Mann finished with a four-length lead over Hugh Francis, with whom he had been running neck and neck over a large part of the course from the inner harbor to the J.B.A.A. float at the Gorge Bridge. Jimmie Mann was third, some 300 yards behind the winner.

The lighter crew of the two entries came out as easy victors in the through-Victoria fours race for the Native Sons of Canada perpetual trophy. The heavier crew was shadowed by bad luck from the very start. They got away some distance behind the winners, and were at once impeded by a broken seat. The breaking of another seat 400 yards from the finish set them the best part of 300 yards behind.

The winning crew was as follows: Joe Sparks (stroke), Fred Crouch, Tom Bishop, Bill Ross and Norm Wharf (cox). The heavier crew was made up of Chris Usher, Don Davis, Bill Seale, Jimmie Temple and A. Augustine (cox).

BAD LUCK IN DOUBLES

In the through-Victoria doubles race, rowed for the Victoria City trophy, two new men were only prevented from winning by a break of bad luck in which they fouled the Point Ellice Bridge, and lost between three and four lengths. The winners were Jimmie Mann and Arnold Mann, Y.M.C.A.; 2, Bev Honor, P.S.C.; 3, Lloyd Matthews, V.A.S.C. Time, 3:35-1-5. 150-Yard Medley Relay, women—1, V.A.S.C.; 2, P.S.C.; 3, Y.M.C.A. had to be restarted after some delay, when the losing team fouled Billingsley's oar, snapping the blade neatly off.

Max Winkler crossed the line two lengths ahead of Billingsley in the junior singles, which were rowed over the shorter course. The novice fours' race saw an easy victory for a team made up of Ian McConnell, G. Alexander, L. Sidelgy and P. Barrett. H. Baker, Jack Munro, B. Monksley and Fred Parker went off the course near the end, and lost a great deal of distance. The races were watched by a fair sized crowd from the J.B.A.A. grandstand and from various points of vantage along the course. The band of the Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade filled in the intervals between the races with a musical programme.

Molly Wallis Clips Canadian Swim Mark

Local Mermaid Beats Record By Fifth of Second to Win Fifty-yard Freestyle Event For Women at U.C.T. Gala

Showing brilliant form before the huge crowd which attended the United Commercial Travelers' gala, Molly Wallis, local mermaid, yesterday evening clipped the fifth of a second from the Canadian women's record for fifty yards freestyle swimming at the Crystal Garden.

Miss Wallis won handily from a field of local swimmers in 29-2-5 seconds. Her feat was the feature of the sports programme which was followed with the "Klondike Night" frolic arranged by the travelers.

Monica Trump, Canadian breast stroke titleholder, also showed up well with victories in the fifty-yard and 200-yard freestyle events.

Entertainment included dancing in the south ballroom and games and amusements in the north room. Hundreds of Victorians, in holiday spirit, took part in the many games of chance, such as house-house, roulette, crown and anchor and chuck-a-luck. The games were played with "phony" money, purchased from "Andrew H. Brown and Amos Jones, financiers," and silk-baited and top-coated croqueters.

Molly Rutherford, a "Diamond-Lit" entertained with vocal selections, with Cecil Heaton, Frank Partridge, Sam Winterbottom and Ernie Fullerton also contributing to the musical programme.

Vancouver Rangers Eliminate Local Squad From Connaught Cup Series 2 to 0; Strong and MacKay Forced From Field With Injuries

Like a tired reader finishing an over-long book, Vancouver Rangers listlessly turned the last few pages of Victoria's ten-month soccer programme at the Athletic Park yesterday evening, sealing the volume, 1934-35 edition, with a 2 to 0 victory over Sanich Thistles. A very fair crowd saw the fixture, a first round game in the Connaught Cup series, but gradually dwindled away as a biting wind cut through summer clothes and the two teams turned in spotty performances.

Relieving the general tedium of the game were the bright flashes shown by Trevor Harvey, smart centre forward for the visitors who drove in the two Vancouver goals. Gemmill and West played nice defensive ball for the Thistles, while Pearce, Harper and Leggett along with Ronnie Williams worked hard for the locals. Wagland and Morgan were the pick of the local forwards, but the latter was starved on the wing until he switched inside.

The calibre of football was well below intensity-play earlier in the season.

Playing with the wind, Thistles started well as the game opened, but passed up what chances they had. Bill McNeil let a cross-goal pass go begging on the Rangers' first chance, before Chalmers picked out two nice shots.

GOOD GOAL

Twenty-eight minutes from the start the Rangers worked down on a short passing attack. MacKay swung a neat cross to Harvey well out and the Rangers' centre rifled in a scoring shot, while the local backs were way out of position.

Leggett asked at the other end when Pearce gave him a set-up. Strong saved well from Wagland and Campbell missed a good chance. Half a minute later Campbell let go a good effort, but Baley deflected it out.

The Thistles pepped up at the close of the first half, but could not complete their attacks.

Prior replaced Dunlop for the Thistles as the second half opened. Just after the switch-over, Strong went down to pick a ball with his head and stopped a foot with his knee. He tried to return to the game but could not. Baley dropped back into goal and Green went in as full-back for the Rangers. Shortly after MacKay went down heavily in a collision with Leggett and was taken from the field, Johnson replacing him.

SCORES SECOND

Trailing by one goal, the Thistles went on the defence until Harvey came in to rattle home his second counter after the Vancouver inroads had missed. The tally came half an hour from the rest interval.

Chalmers stood up under several other fair attacks before the Thistles finally gained a penalty and Campbell drove the ball straight to the goal.

John Watt went on for Price and the teams continued at a listless pace until the whistle sounded. Vancouver had for the better of the second half. McMillan refereed and the teams lined up as follows:

Thistles—Chalmers, Keeler, Harper, Williams, Pearce, Leggett, Viggers, Dunlop, Campbell, Wagland, Morgan, Price and Watt.
Rangers—Strong, Elgie, McKibbin, West, McPherson, Gemmill, McNeil, J. McKay, T. Harvey, J. Spencer, Bob McNeil, E. Johnson and O. Greer.

MYER CLUBBED OUT THREE BLOWS IN FIVE TIMES AT BAT AND BOOSTED HIS AVERAGE TO THE SAME FIGURE, A GAIN OF FIVE POINTS.

Myer's slugging resulted in Wally Moore of the Athletics dropping out of the sextette.

FARRIS SEES SON GOWNED

Seven New Lawyers Called to British Columbia Bar Here To-day

J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., to-day introduced to the court seven new British Columbia lawyers, one of them his son, John Lachlan Farris, recently post-graduate from Harvard.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald presided from the bench at the ceremony in the Supreme Court, in which all members of the B.C. profession have been inducted for more than half a century.

"I always confess to a feeling of envy of any member of the Bar who presides at the calling to the Bar of one of his own," said Mr. Justice McDonald, referring to Mr. Farris and his son.

The latter's bride, whom he married during his final months at college, came over from Vancouver and took a seat in the empty jury box to see her young husband gowned and formally launched upon his professional career in the footsteps of his father.

The justice was with difficulty able to continue, referring to the fact that he knew some of those who stood before him and some of whose fathers were in the profession.

"All I say to you is this, try to follow in the footsteps of your fathers, remember their history and their integrity," the justice said with much feeling. "In these days particularly, we must depend upon the law and may I commend to you the suggestion that from time to time you look back upon the path you have so solemnly taken here to-day. To you all I wish all the good luck God can bring you."

Among those gowned to-day was Miss Margaret Willis Phoe Dyer of Prince Rupert. She, like Mr. Farris, was both called to the Bar and admitted a solicitor.

The others both called to the Bar and admitted were: John Paine-Sargent, Frederic Kernahan Grimmer and Frank Clarence Christian, all of Vancouver.

William John Brocklebank, an English lawyer, was called to the Bar. Following the ceremonies in court, Mr. Farris presided over the regular midsummer meeting of the Benchers. Among those who came over for this was R. L. Maitland, K.C.

It was announced the slate was clear of cases for disciplinary action.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Beverly Hills, July 2.—To the Editor of The Times—You got to hand it to Mussolini he is at least honest. He says that the war in Abyssinia will last about five years and that it will take an additional fifteen years to mop up loose odds and ends. But suppose they don't strike oil and the whole thing will have been for nothing? The Lord help his geologists who have misled him. War talk in Europe has pretty near died out. On account of no international conferences being held they haven't got much chance of getting sore at each other.—Yours,

DOUGLAS STILL LEADING STREET

Pedestrian Count Shows Thoroughfare Most-Used in Downtown Area

Douglas Street continues to go ahead more rapidly than any other thoroughfare in the city proper, from a pedestrian traffic point of view, according to the annual tally made by the city assessor's department. Following the completion to-day of the first check on the tally held in two periods last Saturday, George Okell, city assessment commissioner and collector, announced pedestrian traffic showed an increase of 9 per cent over that of last year on the same streets.

The southwest corner of View and Douglas Street and the northwest corner of the same intersection led the poll in the pedestrian count, Mr. Okell stated to-day. During the hour 5,400 people passed the busier of the two, while 4,897 flowed back and forth before the tally man at the other.

The count was made in two parts, during the hour from 11 o'clock to noon and from 4 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

At the Fort Street-Douglas Street intersection, the northwest corner was the busiest, the count there being 4,038 against 2,600 on the southwest, the best of the remaining three.

This year the tally recorded an increase in traffic on Yates Street between Douglas and Broad. On Fort between Douglas and Blanshard an increase was also noted, while checks on Broad and View Streets revealed the volume of pedestrian traffic about the same as last year.

Government Street, south of Fort, has slipped from the 1934 standard, but from Fort to Yates the volume is quite as good as last year.

Generally the count shows more people than ever before using the main downtown streets.

Although the count was made this year following the installation of the new automatic stop-and-go signals, Mr. Okell was inclined to question the effect they would have on traffic in future. He remarked that while Douglas Street continued to show an increase of greater size than other streets, at least that of that might have been caused by the curiosity crowd trying the signals.

The tally is taken every year to determine to a certain extent the value of sites to merchants. The number of pedestrians passing stores indicates, in some measure, the number of prospective shoppers and from the figures taken on the tally is learned the potential sales value of the different locations.

POLICE HAVE CLOSE CALL

T. W. S. Parsons and Companions in Leaking Barge on Liard River

Completion of the longest link in the British Columbia Provincial Police short-wave telegraphy system at McDame Creek has been effected, but only after Assistant Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and a party of men had a narrow escape when traversing the Liard River, according to dispatches reaching local headquarters.

Over an 80-mile span the radio set which the party saved by desperately hauling out a leaking barge for five hours, told the story to local officers. The set is a portable one and now maintaining regular schedule with the local office after its installation during the latter part of last week.

According to the message received the barge which the commissioner and his men were taking down the river towards the Arctic Circle was badly holed.

They commenced bailing to save their own lives and the small boat containing the thirty-two radio set which has been responsible for the lengthy trek. For five hours they worked to keep the craft afloat and finally managed to repair the damage. It was necessary to dry out five trunks of gear and repack it before the voyage was resumed. The accident occurred in the canyon between Fort Liard and McDame Creek.

FOUR ESCAPE IN ODD CRASH

Three Cars Involved in Accident on Island Highway Early To-day

Four persons narrowly escaped serious injury when their car turned over twice in a freak accident on the Island Highway about 12.30 o'clock this morning. Three cars were involved in the crash. There was no one injured, but a Model T Ford touring car was practically demolished. The accident happened opposite the Chanticleer Inn.

According to the provincial police the Ford was being towed to the city by L. Hannan. In the towed car were Todd Noble, the driver; Miss Lillian Laird and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Yeamans.

They were in collision with a car driven north on the highway by P. Brownsey of Sooke, who was carrying three passengers, according to police. It was reported the Brownsey car first sidwiped the Hannan car then crashed head on into the Ford, turning it over. The ladies in the Noble car were badly shaken, although fortunately none were seriously hurt.

Mr. Yeamans was pinned under the machine for a short while before it was lifted and he was able to extricate himself.

FEW RELIEF MEN APPLIED

Government Surprised With Response on Forestry and Mining Schemes

Out of 500 odd young men applying to go to forestry and placer-mining training camps in the province, less than half were actually relief cases, it was learned at the Parliament Buildings this morning.

It is estimated there are more than 4,000 youths between the specified ages of twenty-one and twenty-five years old dependent on relief in B.C. The proportion applying was thus very small.

The authorities expressed themselves as somewhat in doubt as to the actual reason for this situation. While neither of the schemes offered particularly lucrative returns to the participants they ensured board and lodging, a good summer outing and in the case of the forestry scheme a small cash wage.

On relief, young single men of these ages draw forty cents a day, it was explained, giving them a maximum cash payment in a month of $12.40.

PREPAYMENTS OVER $500,000

New High Reached in City For Half Yearly Advance Payment of Current Taxes

Tax prepayments in the city continued to reach figures well ahead of those of previous years last month as the early mailing of notices brought in increased returns.

On Saturday, the last day for June business, the half-yearly total stood at $508,744, against a total of $438,102 in 1934 and $468,719 in 1933, the previous record year.

It was the first time since the prepayment system was introduced some years ago that the advance payment on the premium plan had yielded more than $500,000.

Those who have met their tax obligations for 1935 so far to date will receive an interest allowance from the date of payment to the time the taxes actually fall due. A premium is still available for those who prepay during the next month or two.

Better Way Out Of Difficulty

Attorney-General Sloan Gives Views on Farm Creditors' Measure

The wishes of the people of British Columbia in regard to the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act could best have been met by an amendment to the act excepting provincial crown contracts and taxation from its scope, Attorney-General Gordon Sloan declared to-day.

Mr. Bennett's action in withdrawing the act entirely from this province was termed by the attorney-general "magnificent inconsistency."

Mr. Sloan's full statement follows: "Prime Minister Bennett stated in the House of Commons that the government of this province should be the best judge of the needs of

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD SERVICE

Praise and Thanksgiving Offered at Dominion Day Gathering in Park

Young people of the city gathered yesterday in Beacon Hill Park to take part in a service of praise and thanksgiving in commemoration of Confederation. The service was sponsored by the Shantymen's Church Association, the Inter-School Christian Fellowship and Children's Special Service Mission.

Alex. McD. Hall, B.S.A., leader of the Young People's Society at Fairfield United Church, was the announcer, and the Salvation Army band provided the music.

The service opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," followed by a prayer by Rev. Canon Stocken. Miss Ora Jealous rendered a solo, after which Rev. James Hood led the Bible reading.

A choral group, comprising members of the Inter-School Christian Fellowship High School students from Victoria, Oak Bay and Saanich, sang sacred songs and S. V. Ware, secretary of the Children's Special Service Mission in British Columbia, gave a short evangelistic address.

At the conclusion of the hymn, George Little recited a poem suitable for the occasion, after which E. G. Marriott gave an address of an evangelistic character. A trio, comprising Misses Netter, Rodmarie and Lillian Parfitt sang, and Percy Willis of the Shantymen's Association, gave the concluding address.

The addresses called for leadership among the youths of to-day, and urged the young people to make a closer study of Christ's teaching and consecrate their lives to His service. The closing hymn was "All Hail the Power of Jesus' name." J. S. Whitting was in charge of the service, and received splendid co-operation from the Salvation Army and the band, which prior to the service rendered some beautiful sacred music.

SAYS PUBLIC WAS INFLAMED

At one minute after 1 o'clock this afternoon, Stuart Henderson, chief defence counsel, concluded before the four sitting justices of the Court of Appeal his argument which he began last Wednesday morning, against the twenty-one-year prison sentence handed out to Joe Celona on his conviction in Vancouver on white slavery charges.

Mr. Henderson put in copies of the Vancouver daily newspapers, with long stories under page-wide, deep-type headlines. The stories were on the Celona case. Mr. Henderson said sensational newspaper stories before and during the trial had so inflamed public opinion in Vancouver against Celona that it was impossible for him to be tried in an unprejudiced manner amid the heated atmosphere that was created and the passions worked up against him.

"Would you be any better off with a new trial now?" Mr. Justice McPhillips asked. "Public opinion was aroused, you say, and the populace inflamed against him by the newspapers. Are they still inflamed?"

"Not to the same extent, as a lot of things in connection with this affair have been found out since," replied Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Henderson said Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in his charge to the jury had been unfair to Celona, as he had devoted only one of two phrases of the whole charge to Celona's defence, and had treated it in a satirical manner.

RELIEF ROAD BUILDING ENDS

Ontario Will Let Contracts; Port Arthur Section of Transcanada Opened

Port Arthur, Ont., July 2.—Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests and Northern Development, announced here yesterday evening at a banquet in celebration of the opening of the Great Lakes section of the Transcanada Highway that the Ontario government would in future let contracts for its road building. The relief camp system under which jobs were worked at highway construction, was at least twice as expensive as the method proposed by the government, he said. A mile of road could be built by a contractor, he said, for half the cost of the relief camp system. Under the camp system, Mr. Heenan said, with a $5 a month allowance for the men a section of road in northwestern Ontario had cost $55,000. A contractor would have built it for half that amount and would have paid fair wages.

"It will mean more wages for the workers and save money on that we can go on to build more roads," Mr. Heenan said.

HIGHWAY OPENED

Touching Lake Superior at the same landing place and using for some miles out the historic route followed by Colonel, later Lord Wolseley, with his overland military expedition to the Northwest in 1871, the Great Lakes west section of the Transcanada Highway was formally opened yesterday. The occasion was made a joint Port Arthur and Port William celebration and invitations to attend found a considerable response from Manitoba and Minnesota points, including mayors of Winnipeg and Duluth, who came with a cavalcade organized in Winnipeg. The ribbon ceremony was performed at the border line between the two cities by Mr. Heenan, who wielded a broadsword to part a band played across a chopping block.

WEIRD STORY AT DOMINION

"Mark of the Vampire," Opening To-day, Is Detective Thriller

Sinister shadows, vampires that roam in the night, terror in its ultimate intensity, blend with suspense, thriller, romance and comedy in "Mark of the Vampire," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing detective thriller which opened at the Dominion Theatre to-day. Dealing with a mysterious crime, in the midst of an uncanny vampire cult, the story deals with a detective whose wife is pitted against the "undead" and who, by an amazing strategy uncovers one of the strangest criminals in modern literature. Based on a story by Guy Endore, author of "Werewolf of Paris" and "Babouk," and Bernard Schubert, it was directed by Tod Browning, master of the "vampire" genre, creator of "Dracula" and director of the famous Lon Chaney mysteries. Lionel Barrymore plays the principal role as Professor Zelen, amazing student of demonology, who aids the police in ferreting out a vampire horde.

Mystery Plane Heavily Armed

"Fairey Fantome" Carries Four Machine Guns and Quick Firer

Associated Press
 London, June 29.—The new British mystery airplane, "Fairey Fantome," claimed to be the heaviest armed fighter in the world, will be brought from its closely guarded hangar at Hendon Monday to roar over the heads of experts in a display for the Society of British Aircraft Constructors. The ship carries four machineguns, one on each lower wing and two atop the fuselage, and also a quick-firing gun which throws twenty-millimetre shells. The magazine of this gun carries sixty shells, fired through the propeller hub instead of through synchronized spaces of the whirling blades. This new machine, expected to reach a speed of 250 miles an hour, has been secretly constructed at a British factory to compete in the international fighting plane competition to be held in Belgium in July.

YOU BULLY—NEXT THING YOU'LL BE RESORTING TO VIOLENCE—IT'S THE ONLY THING YOU HAVEN'T DONE—I WOULDN'T PUT IT PAST YOU—

STRIKE ME! YOU'RE A BIG STRONG MAN—GO AHEAD! IT WOULD BE JUST LIKE YOU—

STRIKE ME! I DARE YOU!

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—Suppose a man is married to a woman who deliberately makes his life a hell on earth to him by her nagging, her fault-finding, her insults and abuse. Suppose this man has stood this for twenty years, trying in every way to conciliate his wife, even to giving up his family to please her and to keeping from furnishing fresh fuel for her temper, because there were two little girls who had to be taken care of and supported. And suppose at last the man had got to the breaking point, what with all his troubles in business and going home at night to a home where he knows he will be tormented from the time he goes in the door until he closes it after him the next morning. What in such a case should the man do?

ONE WHO NEEDS HELP.

Answer—I think in such a case a man should simply put on his hat and walk out. Tell his tormentor of a wife that he is through. Finished. Send her what money he can for the support of the two girls, but find himself some place of peace and rest where he can let his strained nerves relax and gather up the courage and strength for his next day's struggle with the world.

I think that of all the overvalued virtues in the world the most overvalued is self-sacrifice. I think that more folks have been committed in its name than any other on earth. I think that it often does harm than good; that it weakens instead of strengthens, and that it encourages egotism, greed, graft, cruelty and tyranny in others.

Look at parents we have all known who have sacrificed themselves for their children! The fathers who have grown gray-shouldered, and toiled to send their boys off to college when they acquired nothing but a college yell and a swelled head! Mothers who have made corns on their hands to keep the red enamel on their daughters' fingers untarnished! Wives who have made slaves out of themselves for their husbands! Husbands who have worked themselves to death to buy French finery for their wives!

Have you ever known a single case in which the boys wouldn't have done finer and better men if father had made them go to work and earn their own living, instead of sacrificing himself to support them in idleness? Or where the girls wouldn't have made better women and been fitted to be better wives in every way if mother had made them do their share of work instead of dumping it all on her?

Or where the husbands wouldn't have respected and loved his wife more if she had demanded a fair deal in the pleasures and perquisites of their joint partnership? Or where the wife wouldn't have been a happier and more contented woman and loved her husband better if he had had the nerve to make her live within their income, and be a helpmate to him instead of a millstone around his neck?

I believe that if men and women knew that the only way they could keep a husband or wife was by treating him or her properly, it would do more than any one thing to stop divorce. It would make them behave themselves. There are a lot of people who get a joy out of tormenting any one in their power, and they will do it as long as they can. But they do not enjoy the sport as much as they do a good home and somebody to provide for them, and there would be a mighty reforming of grouchy husbands and virago wives if they held their peace at the price of according decent treatment to the party of the other part.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Our class in college debated the question: Which has the better chance to get married, as an average, an old maid or an old bachelor? Please solve this problem for us. SOME GREEN FRESHMEN.

Answer—There is no argument about this. The old bachelor has 100 per cent better chance of marrying than the old maid. An old bachelor can always marry as long as he has one foot out of the grave, but no matter how spiny an old maid is, it takes nothing short of a dispensation of Providence to get her a husband.

But note that when I say "old maid" I mean a woman who is alone in her fifties, for up to forty she is a girl, and from forty to fifty she is in the bachelor class and her chances of getting a husband are reasonably good. After a woman is fifty, however, she never has a fifty-fifty chance with men in the matrimonial line.

Of course, as a matter of fact, a woman never at any age has as good a chance to marry as a man has, because a man has the advantage of being able to do the courting. When he sees a girl who attracts him, he can pursue her and, in the language of commerce, sell himself to her. He can tell her how wonderful he is, and how suitable he is for her, and what a good husband he will make her, and so on.

But the girl has to sit on the anxious seat until some man comes along and notices her. She can't pursue him and "sell him" what a good cook she is, and how thrifty and economical, and what a wonderful wife she will make him, and this puts her at a disadvantage. Thousands of women who remain spinsters would have made splendid wives if only they could have done the courting.

Uncle Wiggly and the Humming Bird

BY HOWARD E. GARRIS

Uncle Wiggly's wife and Nurse Jane were more than one-eyed when they saw the rabbit gentleman. The cotton from a milkweed pod to stuff in his ears, as told you last night. Uncle Wiggly put the cotton in his ears to practice for quietness so he would be ready for Fourth of July. He didn't want to hear the bang bang noises.

Some one else who saw Uncle Wiggly stuff cotton in his ears was the Bob Cat, one of the three Bob Cats always trying to catch the rabbit gentleman. With the cotton in his ears he can't hear me speaking up behind him. Other times he hears me coming after him and he starts running and jumping and so he goes away. But now he can't hear me and I'll catch him.

So after Uncle Wiggly with his ears stopped against noises began hopping over the fields and through the woods, the Bob Cat went sneaking after him, getting closer and closer. The bunny gentleman didn't hear the Bob Cat.

"Uncle Wiggly! Uncle Wiggly! Look out! Danger is coming!"

"But because of the cotton in his ears, Uncle Wiggly didn't hear the voice of the turtle and he didn't hear the Bob Cat sneaking after him."

"The Bob Cat with no cotton in his ears, heard what the turtle said and he was angry."

"You stop telling Uncle Wiggly I'm after him!" snarled the Bob Cat. "You stop it!"

"No!" said the turtle. "I'll warn him of danger!" He called more loudly, but the rabbit couldn't hear him.

Then the angry Bob Cat tried to scratch and bite the turtle. But the turtle pulled his head, legs and tail inside his shell and closed himself up so tightly the Bob Cat couldn't do him any harm.

"I'll catch you and scratch you some other time," snarled the Bob Cat when he found how hard was the turtle's shell. "Just now I'm going to sleep."

Once more he sneaked after the rabbit. Uncle Wiggly, still hearing nothing, was hopping along with the cotton in his ears. When he reached the middle of a field and was looking around for an adventure, all of a sudden a humming bird saw some white cotton sticking out of the rabbit's left ear.

HUMMING BIRD GETS COTTON

"That's just what I need for my nest," said the humming bird. "My wife was saying this morning some of the lining was out of our nest and she asked me to find some cotton to put in place of it. I guess

Yacht Makes Port After Three Lost

Robert R. Ames, Wealthy Boston Sportsman, and Two Sons, Lost in Atlantic Gale; Boys Sacrificed Lives in Attempt to Save Father

Canadian Press

Sydney, N.S., July 2.—Three youthful New England yachtsmen sailed the crippled fifty-four-foot ketch Hamrah into port yesterday to tell how an Atlantic gale had claimed the lives of Robert R. Ames, fifty-five, wealthy Boston realty broker and sportsman, and his only sons, Richard, twenty-three, and Harry, twenty.

The survivors, who plainly showed the effects of their terrible experience on haggard faces, were Roger Weed, twenty-five, Boston; Sheldon Ware, nineteen, Boston, and Charles Tillingham, twenty-one, Providence, R.I.

They told how the Ames brothers sacrificed their lives in a gallant attempt to save their father, who had been washed overboard by great waves that almost swamped the ketch, 600 miles east of Newfoundland.

"Mr. Ames—I'm not quite sure he could swim—was swept off the yacht as he lurched in the boiling trough whipped up by a northeast gale," Weed said.

"His eldest son, Richard, went to his father's rescue. A small tender was lowered into the sea by the younger Ames, Harry, who rowed to where his father and brother were."

"Meanwhile the terrific gale provided difficulties for the rest of us. On the second jibe the boom broke and the gaff jaw parted. While we worked to repair the damaged rigging the ketch was blown away."

As the storm-lashed seas poured over the almost submerged yacht, the three on board kept pointing in the direction of where they had last seen the owner and his two sons. They had lost sight of the trio, however, that was Wednesday, June 19. The days that followed were nightmares of fog and gales until they reached port here.

Who Owned Old License No. 279?

Robert Willis Finds Relic of Early Days in Course of Repairs to Enterprise Wharf

Associated Press

Cleaning up the wharves is akin to archaeology, to judge from the experiences of Robert Willis, who has been straightening out the Enterprise Wharf on the Hudson's Bay Company property at the foot of Fort Street. Many and varied have been his finds.

Mr. Willis is wondering from what relic of Victoria's early days came the vehicle license plate which he dug up the other day. It is seventy-three years old, and is numbered 279.

A very old and large granite ash tray is another of Mr. Willis' finds. From its titanic size he gathers that the cigar-smoking capacity of the old-timers has not been overrated after all.

Changes are being made around the old wharf. The roadway leading to the Island Tug and Barge Company's dock and Hall's coal dock has been completely cleared of the accumulated garbage of years, and the many old trees which blocked the passage.

The Enterprise Wharf is undergoing repairs. New piling will soon be driven by the James McDonald Construction Company, and David Barnett is repairing the sea wall and the roadway.

Additional space will be provided by new floats which George Willis, father of Robert, is building. All the existing floats are occupied by boat owners who make the wharf their headquarters.

SEATTLE MEN ARE VICTORS

Two United States Craft Nese Out Canadians at Bellingham Regatta

Associated Press

Bellingham, Wash., July 2.—Quartering a strong southeast wind, two Seattle boats won trophies from the Canadians yesterday in the opening events of the Pacific International Yachting Association's regatta. It will continue three days.

The Angelica, owned by P. M. Henry, Seattle, won the Whaler Bay, B.C., to Bellingham race, completing the Pacific northwest perpetual challenge trophy for cruising sloops.

The Mahero, a ketch owned by Roy W. Corbett, Seattle, finished first in the race for the Sir Thomas Lipton perpetual challenge trophy. Second place was still in dispute yesterday evening between the Melmar and the Minerva, both Vancouver, B.C., boats.

One accident marred the regatta's opening. Charles Ross, young Seattle yachtsman, was crushed beneath a trailer while attempting to launch his star boat, Cene. He received an injured back and body bruises.

KEY BROTHERS SET RECORDS

Land Their Plane Ole Miss After Almost Month in the Air

Associated Press

Meridian, Miss., July 2.—The flying Key brothers came down yesterday evening to this midwestern city's airport breaking two endurance flight records aboard their plane "Ole Miss."

The brothers Fred and Al Key, went aloft on June 4. They broke the official endurance flight record Thursday and yesterday passed the unofficial mark of Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien.

When they landed they had been in the air twenty-seven days, five hours and thirty-three minutes.

A crowd of thousands roared an ovation as the flyers brought their oil-spattered plane to a safe landing on the soggy airport.

Tired, weary and "air groggy" they stepped from the monoplane, their "residence" of almost a month, and were greeted by cheering crowds.

The brothers were freshly dressed and cleanly shaven as they stepped from the plane, but their hair had grown wild during their residence of almost a month in the sky.
